OUR COVER

Yet another Taranaki beauty goes forward for the Miss New Zealand title. She is Susan Hardy, a professional model who hails from Hawera. The cover picture was taken on the beach at Ohawe. The travelling show with all the Miss NZ entries will be at Hawera on 29th April, and New Plymouth on April 30th and May 2nd. We pick her to go close in the final reckoning.

BACK COVER

Women In The News

Above: A very big celebration was recently held for the first birthday of the Whakaahurangi Maori Women's Welfare League. Shown cutting their first cake are from left, Mrs D. Thompson, the patroness of the branch, Mrs J. Ruakure, first president of the branch, Mrs J. Gable, secretary from New Plymouth, and Irene Ruakure, first secretary of the branch.

Below: This picture was sent to us by one of the party of ex-WAAF's who recently attended the association's conference in Auckland. All these women are ex-WAAF's and hail from Taranaki. They look a happy bunch - we only hope they behaved themselves while away from home.

Marching Championships

Teams from many towns in the North Island recently contested the Taranaki Marching Association championships. The events were spread over two days, with the first day at Lynmouth Park, New Plymouth, and the second day at Stratford. Local teams didn't fare too well, but some very good marching was provided by the visiting teams who travelled long distances to compete.

Taranaki Go-Kart Champs

Hurford Road, Omata, was the venue for the recent Taranaki Go-Kart championships. Everything was in the organisers' favour, except the disappointingly small crowd of spectators. The racing was keen and spectacular, with some very fast times being recorded.

Inter-Secondary School Championships

Stratford was the venue for this year's inter-secondary school championships. The weather was brilliantly fine and warm, though a breeze caused a loss in some of the records broken and disallowed. Bell Block Factory Chairman Honoured

Forty-two years is a long time to be chairman of a dairy factory, but that is the proud record of Len Rumble, who recently retired from the position. Len was accorded a presentation and social evening by the directors of the company at the Waitara Memorial Hall recently, when over 300 people attended. After a convivial get-together and a buffet dinner, the guests retired to the smaller hall for the social part of the evening, which included two presentations and many glowing speeches to the untiring effort and character of Len Rumble. Above, left: Len receives the good wishes and a presentation from the present chairman of the company, Jim Sampson. Pukengahu School Jubilee

Speeches at the official function of the 50th jubilee of the Pukengahu school all referred to the big changes seen in the district over the past fifty years. It would appear that when the school was first built, practically the whole area was bush-covered, where now stands some of the province's highest producing farms.

Children's A.A. Champs

The first children's AA championships were held some time ago down at Opunake, and drew some very good fields for most of the events. There were 55 events on the programme, which was run very efficiently and without a hitch. The pictures on this and the following two pages taken at the championships were supplied by Mr Robin Chambers.

Danish Gymnasts Impressive

From Denmark, where gymnastics is a national sport, came some of the world's finest exponents to give shows throughout the country. Two shows at Pukekura Park rated a total audience of 4000. It was a pity that there was so many other forms of entertainment at the same time. We feel that this type of entertainment is first-class and educational for both young and old. Some of the top scramble riders in the country recently took part in the New Zealand 250cc championship at Hurford Road, Omata. Also on the programme was the North Island 500cc championship. With conditions ideal, a very large crowd saw some of the best racing to date. Spills were few, and the day was enjoyed to the full by all. Unusual Visitor

It isn't often that we see this type of aircraft at Bell Block. It is the Bristol Freighter, and it landed with quite a few tons of cargo recently. Among the cargo were piles of "photo news" and this was the first time that these had been carried by this type of aircraft.

Eltham Hospital Gala

Over £200 was raised in this year's garden party held at the Eltham Hospital grounds. The weather was brilliantly fine for this annual event, and attracted a good crowd to the many stalls. What struck us at this, our first visit to this gala, was the number of workers helping this very worthy cause, especially the members of the Salvation Army.

Bargain Boulevard A Success

The New Plymouth Lions Club did a wonderful job recently with their Bargain Boulevard on Devon Street. The target of £2500 for a new fitted ambulance for St. John is well in sight after this tremendous effort. Thousands thronged the street, and nearly all went home with a bargain of some sort. It is worth a mention that EVERYTHING was donated for this effort, and the articles, plus the hundreds of hours put in by members of the Lions Club, added up to a big success. Above: Scene in Devon Street as the bargain-hunters gather for the big sale. Below: The road and pavements were crammed with hundreds of lots to be knocked down under the auctioneer's hammer.

The Lions Club Bargain Boulevard was held on a very hot Saturday, and some of the bargain-hunters must have felt the heat. The shopper, above, left, stopped under the verandah to take a rest, perched on one of her many bargains. Above, right: Auctioneers Selwyn Toogood and Arthur Lander did a mammoth job in disposing of hundreds of lots. Below: Resembling Petticoat Lane on a Sunday morning, Devon Street was thronged with people looking for a bargain, and mostly getting one.

Lou's daughter Mavis turns the hay with the help of her two white horses

Turning Back The Clock

How seldom now does one see haymaking in the good old-fashioned way as shown here. We were invited out to Norfolk Road, Inglewood, to the farm of Mr Lou Muggeridge, to record this very rare occurrence. It was a peaceful scene, with no tractor noise to destroy the tranquillity of a perfect day. Lou doesn't own a tractor (everything on his property is done with horses), and, according to Lou, it's done just as efficiently, though not quite as quickly.

With a 40-year-old machine, Lou sweeps the paddock.

The whole family helped to get the hay in

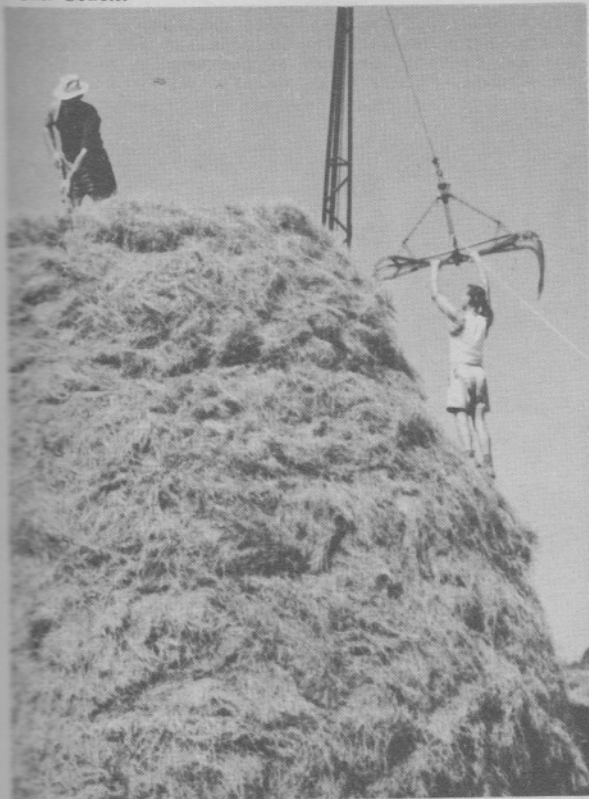

Above: Sweeping the paddock of hay is no easy task, but Lou and his two horses worked as a well-drilled team to do the job just as effectively as any tractor.

Below: Ernie Muggeridge goes to the top of the stack the easy way.

Right: Lunch time, and Mavis and Beverley Muggeridge put the billy on.

Below, right: Even young David Muggeridge was on hand to pick up the loose pieces to make his own stack.

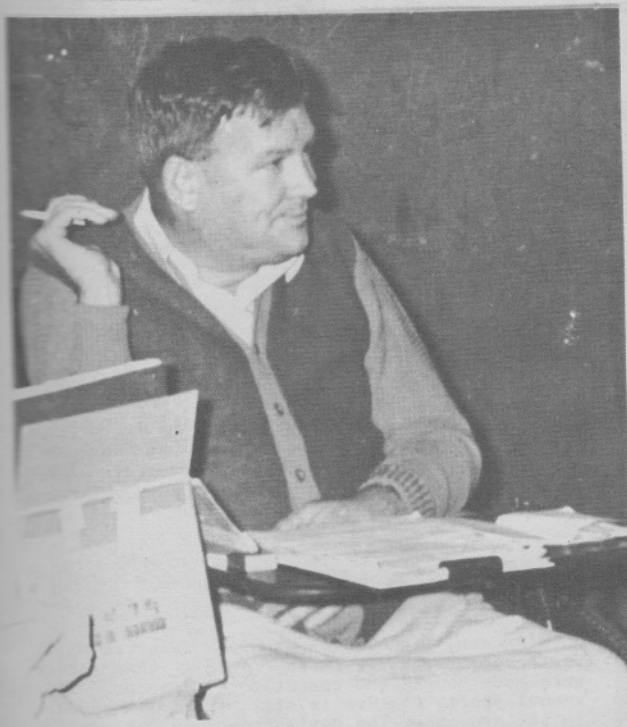

Wedding Bells

Above: WEST-ROBINSON. At St.Mary's Anglican Church, Hawera, Anna Maria, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs R.Robinson, Normanby, to David Fred, youngest son of Mr F.West, Inglewood. The bridesmaids were Janice Gilbert, Stratford, and Nellie Johnny, Hawera. Graeme Dobson, Inglewood, was the best man and Bill West, Inglewood, was the groomsman. The flower-girl was Carmel Robinson, sister of the bride, Normanby. (DAVID PAUL STUDIOS).

Below: SHARP-JACKSON. At St.John's Presbyterian Church, Hawera, Evelyn, only daughter of Mr A. Jackson, Manaia, to Ian Victor, second son of Mr and Mrs H.Sharp, Manaia. The bridesmaids were Adele Marsh, Hawera, and Noeline Lockley, Ohawe. Best man was Ray Jackson, brother of the bride, Manaia, and the groomsman was Bosie Sharp, brother of the groom, Manaia. Future home, Manaia. (DAVID PAUL).

Left: Now here's a chap whom we lift our hats to. He's Jack Nicholls, secretary of the Marfell kindergarten committee. All of Jack's time is spent in a wheel-chair, and instead of feeling despondent about it, Jack is one of the most cheerful of souls. Just recently, he has been engaged in organising the Marfell Mystery Envelope appeal for the kindy, and he has done a terrific job. Organisation seems to be his strong point, as every member of that committee speaks mountains of praise for his ability and cheerfulness.

Below, left: Another person who is doing a grand job in the community is Judith Phillips, Miss Brooklands, 1966. She is invited to many functions and always acts with charm and grace but never turns down an invitation. More young people like this would make the world a better place in which to live.

Below: We always like to hand out our congratulations to old folk. Here, Mr Henry Sampson, with his wife, is shown at the celebration of his 90th birthday. Not many people live to 90, and very few to a sprightly 90 like Henry. Our heartiest congratulations, Henry.

Waitui Sports

This year, the Waitui sports were held on another property, with the result that there were more people and competitors present. This annual sports fixture is still the most popular in the province. The day's programme is virtually continuous, with motor-cycle racing, chopping, basketball and a dozen different things going on to make it the success it is.

Pungarehu 75th Jubilee

Four glorious days of celebrations marked the 75th jubilee of the Pungarehu School recently. The big day was Saturday, starting with a parade of more than thirty floats, depicting the life of the district over the past 75 years. Above: Jubilee committee chairman Mr Gilgooly with Mrs A. Elwin, one of the oldest pupils, who had the honour of cutting the jubilee cake. Above, right: Mr R. Wharehoka seen during his welcoming speech. New Motorway Takes Shape

Now that the overhead bridge is complete in Junction Road, the new motorway approaching New Plymouth from the south is fast taking shape. It requires the flattening out of a couple of hills, and before we know it, the new road will emerge into Coronation Avenue. Above: View of the motorway from the top of the overhead bridge in Junction Road, looking north towards the city. Right: View as seen from the bridge with the old Te Henui bottleneck bridge and the main road into the city. Up go the envelopes as the mixture is stirred

Mixing Mystery Envelopes

It was a great evening for the members of the Warfell kindergarten committee recently when they mixed up 20,000 mystery envelopes. It was a mammoth job undertaken by a band of hard and enthusiastic workers. After mixing and putting in the top prizes, there was the big task of counting them all over again. It would be safe to say that this was the best-organised mystery envelope stunt yet performed in the city.

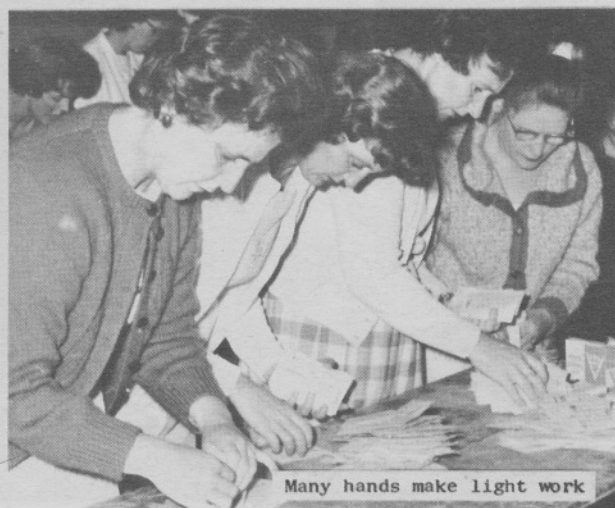

20,000 yet to count out!

The big prizes go in, watched by a representative of the Police, Mr E.P. Aderman, the Mayor, Mr A.G. Honnor and president of the kindy association, Mr Ed Stone.

Cobbers!

Give a youngster a dog to befriend, and they are cobbers for as long as you leave them alone. This appealing picture was taken out at Oakura beach recently. The dog, for some reason, was covered with a rug, and the young fellow thought he would do his share of looking after the canine pup. It was a short, but beautiful friendship struck up by these two very young and innocent things.
