NEW SCHOOL.
 The new Hawera Intermediate School begins to make its appearance on the skyline on South Road, Hawera. The building of ultra-modern design will be a great asset to the town.

Future All Blacks?

This Rugby is certainly a disease in Taranaki. More than 150 primary school footballers enrolled for the Tukapo Club's midget competitions which are to be conducted this season. These youngsters flocked to Sanders Park, to pay their fees and sign on for this popular competition.

Double Golden Wedding

Above: Golden weddings are rare enough, but a double golden wedding is really something to write home about. A dinner attended by over 60 relatives and friends was given in this case and our picture not only includes the happy couples but also two of the bridesmaids who attended them. From left, Mrs A.J.Gordge (bridesmaid), Mr and Mrs C.A.J.Randrup, Auckland, Mr and Mrs L.H. Andrews, Kaihihi Road, and Mrs F.J.Eustace (also a bridesmaid).

Married

Above: Not exactly a topical view, but printed to remind you of the winter ahead, with those cold, clear, crisp days to come, when Mount Egmont raises its snow-covered head above the Taranaki landscape. This photograph was taken last winter, from the bridge over the Waiwakaiho river at Fitzroy.

Below: The stage is set, the curtain is up...or should we say in place, at the new War Memorial Hall in New Plymouth. This is what the stage looked like, when our cameraman called in just two weeks ago. By the time this appears in print, the first productions will have taken place in this magnificent building.

Gymnasts at Camp Huinga

Gymnasts from many parts of the North Island gathered at the YMCA's Camp Huinga for an Easter camp and refresher course. Thanks to the fine weather, most of the gymnastic work was completed in the open air.

Fire Practice in Devon Street

Full-scale fire fighting appliances were rushed to the Criterion Hotel in Devon street recently, when an alarm sounded at 6.50 on a Saturday morning. This alarm, a well-kept secret of the chief fire officer, was to give the firemen a full-scale practice. None of the brigade's 25 firemen knew of the practice, until they had reached the hotel. An excellent idea, to which the firemen responded magnificently.

Accidental Interludes

Returning from one of his many functions, our photographer came across this accident, which happened about a quarter-mile south of Barrett Road, on the Opunake-New Plymouth highway. On arrival at the scene, the car (at right) was lying on its side, and the driver, Mr H. Rowe, Leach Street, New Plymouth, was lying on the road, covered by a blanket, and awaiting the arrival of the ambulance, which was on the scene in a very short time. It wasn't long before Mr Rowe was speeding on his way to hospital, thanks to the wonderful service of both police and ambulance attendants, who are seen (below) putting Mr Rowe in the ambulance.

Below right: An accident of a different kind occurred at the final meeting of the North Taranaki Powerboat Club on Lake Ratapiko. Chiquita, a Wanganui boat, in making a turn, was involved in an argument with another Wanganui boat, Typhoon. The distinct channel, shown in our photograph, was carved out by the propeller of the Typhoon. Fortunately, no one was hurt.

Catholic Maori Camp

Easter-time sees many camps organised in all parts of the province. This year, the Catholic Maoris spent their annual camp at Normandy, where a gathering representing Maoris from all parts of the country took part in a full programme of sports and social competitions. With plenty to do for the children and young folk, the camp could be labelled a huge success.

Above: One of the many interesting and entertaining sidelights was when Father Wall of Wellington took on all comers (under the age of twelve) in an improvised ring. Many were the takers, and much was the punishment suffered by the father. In his endeavours to amuse the young folk. Below: Our cameraman found this party of East Coast Maoris practising for the evening's competitions on the stage. These are from the Mangatu, Gisborne area. The harmony and rhythm in this party's action songs kept us lingering for a long time, so well did they perform.

Roving Camera

Many Taranaki bowling clubs have now had their closing day. Of special significance was that of the West End Club, New Plymouth, which this year celebrated its Golden Jubilee, which was even more significant by the fact that the club won two Taranaki titles.

Mort also won the Taranaki singles and pairs titles this season, bringing his total of provincial titles to nine. A fine record, by a fine player.

NEW FIRE ENGINE FOR STRATFORD.

Left: The latest in fire fighting equipment is now the proud boast of the Stratford Volunteer Fire Brigade, which recently took delivery of a new fire engine. It has seating for six men and equipment, all enclosed. Standing at the crew compartment door is chief fire officer W. Brocklebank.

Presbyterian Easter Camp

Presbyterians from all parts of the province came to New Plymouth for their annual Easter camp. These youngsters were billeted in the Westown School, where they looked after themselves well, with the supervision of a few elders of the church. One of the highlights of the camp was a lantern service on top of Churchill Heights on Good Friday.

Above: Participants in this service were well wrapped up against the chill wind that blew, whilst they sang their hymns.

Below: Gathered round the base of the distance stone, they appeared to enjoy the novelty of an open air service.

Below, right: The campers brought along their own accordion for accompaniment for their singing.

"Old Girls" Galore
In the quadrangle, surrounded by girls of the school, are old girls representing eight decades of more than 1500 past pupils. This huge gathering was witnessed on the first morning of the 75th Jubilee of the New Plymouth Girls' High School.

Wedding Bells

Above: ROBINSON-DAVIES: At St. Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Glyndwr, only daughter of Mr and Mrs T.O.S.Davies, New Plymouth, to Peter John, eldest son of Mr and Mrs J.M.Robinson, Palmerston North. The bridesmaids were Susan Saunders of Hawera and Susan Willis of Greatford. Robert McKegg of Palmerston North was the best man and the groomsmen was Ru Perrett of Morrinsville. The future home of the couple will be Palmerston North.

Below: RYAN-O'REILLY. At St. Joseph's Catholic Church, New Plymouth, Colleen Theresa, youngest daughter of the late Mr and Mrs E.O'Reilly, New Plymouth, to Kevin Joseph, son of Mr and Mrs D.Ryan, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Margaret Jones of Urenui, Gael O'Reilly of Lower Hutt and Elizabeth Horton of New Plymouth. Bill Butler of New Plymouth was the best man and Michael Finningan also of New Plymouth was the groomsmen. The future home of the couple will be New Plymouth.

Girls' High School 75th Jubilee

The long and eventful history of New Plymouth Girls' High School, starting 75 years ago when the first few girls were admitted to the boys' school, and culminating today in one of the largest and finest of educational institutions in the Dominion, was celebrated at Easter, when former pupils and teachers from all parts of the country gathered for the interesting and impressive jubilee ceremonies.

Below: Speeches were made from the entrance to the school's new assembly hall. Those in honoured positions included the jubilee committee, and first and second decade old girls.

JUBILEE SNAPSHOTS

Below: Senior pupils march to the dais to present posies to the first decade old girls of the school. This was a touching ceremony, which pleased the recipients on this auspicious occasion.

Below: Our camera caught two of the performers for the orchestra, as they make their way to the stage door of the new hall, prior to its official opening by Sir George Currie. The girl with the viola is Gay Jamieson, and her friend is Janine Gardner.

Jubilee Debutantes

These are the debutantes presented to Sir John and Lady Allum, at the N.P.G.H.S. 75th Jubilee Ball. They are, Glenys Ballinger, Fay Bellringer, Betty Burt, Roslyn Freebairn, Anne Goudie, Joyce Hall, Beryl Hoskin, Betty Isbister, Lynette Julian, Josephine Mackintosh, Gillian Mason, Susan Mason, Robin Matthews, Virginia Mills, Diane Oliver, Dianne O'Neill, Isobel Schweiters, Hilary Slater, Carolyn Stacey and Esme Wilson.

NEW ASSEMBLY HALL OPENED

The school's new assembly hall, one of the finest in the Dominion, was opened by the Vice-Chancellor of the University of New Zealand, Sir George Currie.

Pictures show the assembly on stage for this notable occasion, and some of the audience, as the girls' orchestra, under the baton of Mr. W. Komlos, entertains.
