

Filled bottles continue along the belt and the caps are automatically placed on each one.

Next stop is what is called the mixing machine. Here each bottle is turned completely around by the machine in order to thoroughly mix the syrup with the carbonated water. As the bottles pass out the machine they are checked once again.

The bottled Fanta is then crated and the crates are stacked. Performing this job are Lionel Hall and Brian Taylor.

The crates are then forklifted into the despatch area. Gordon Stott is the forklift driver.

Last step is loading the crates of Fanta onto trucks for delivery to the retail stores.

Car Club Cabaret

A hillbilly theme was chosen for the recent Taranaki Car Club's Cabaret held at their Club Rooms on Egmont Road. While this theme allowed the cabaret to have a completely relaxed and informal atmosphere, some of the members went to great lengths to present a real hillbilly appearance.

Swap Meeting

The Hot Rod Club held a Swap Meeting three weeks ago outside the YMCA in New Plymouth. We are not sure how many deals were made and sealed on the day but all who attended seemed to study at least one or two items very closely.

Hot Rod Cabaret

After their 'Swap Meeting' Hot Rodders attended a Cabaret in the Queens Hall. While it was not a large crowd, they were certainly a happy lot who seemed mostly content to sit and talk with friends or to dance a while.

Shaft provided a driving rock music that kept most everyone up on the floor and dancing.

FITZROY v. MOTUROA

Fitzroy won a hard fought match against Moturoa when the two teams met at Bell Block a few weeks ago. A decisive factor in the match was that one team was forced to play into a ever sinking sun and it was decidedly difficult playing under these conditions at times. Never-the-less Fitzroy was definitely the superior team.

HANLON BANNED

John Hanlon has run into trouble with the NZBC.

NZBC Radio have decided not to purchase his single 'Is it Natural' for air play on their network of radio stations. This in effect means that the disc is banned by NZBC Radio.

However NZBC Television have decided to ignore the NZBC Radio ruling and have included it in their Sunday Night Review Programme.

Makes one wonder about the judgement of NZBC.

THAT WAS BOWIE DAY

A massive promotion was undertaken by PYE Records, the New Zealand distributors of RCA Records for whom David Bowie records, to promote David Bowie's new album.

Bowie's new release is called Diamond Dogs and to celebrate the album's release PYE declared July 13 as BOWIE DAY.

Huge 30 X 40 full colour posters, 'dog tags' complete with chain and bearing the Diamond Dogs inscription, plus car stickers and stacks of biographical information were sent the length and breadth of the country. All of which proclaims Bowie as the best thing since the arrival of music itself. The huge promotion also involved TV, radio and newspapers and in the words of the handout "Everyone in New Zealand will be aware that it's Bowie Day. (even dogs).

The New Zealand release comes exactly two weeks after it's US release, where already Diamond Dogs has climbed into the Top 20 Albums list.

Advance orders for the album in England have already given it a gold and Bowie's Ziggy Stardust album has now also received a gold.

As the PYE People say "Another Gold Dog Collar for Bowie".

WORST COMMERCIAL

Because of the atrocious quality of some of the commercials screened on television, this column will each month nominate one commercial for the 'Worst TV Commercial' award.

At the end of the year all nominations will be judged to find the worst commercial of the year. Readers are invited to submit their own nominations.

This month's worst is the Colmans Pudding commercial.

HANK SNOW FOR AUSTRALIA

Robert Raymond the promoter who brought many shows to New Zealand and who is now working on the Australian circuit, has announced that he plans to tour Australia with Hank Snow.

Snow has just celebrated his 38th year with RCA Records and immediately after his New Zealand tour last year he returned to the recording studios in Nashville. He cut an album at those sessions especially for his kiwi fans called "Now is the Hour (For Me to Sing to My Friends in New Zealand)". The album is due for release here shortly.

NEW ALBUMS

B.J. ARNAU.....RCA SF 8363

B.J. Arnau is definitely not for everyone. She is a fascinating entertainer somewhat in the mould of Nancy Wilson. A club type performer whose material runs the gamut of popular proven material. Material such as You've Lost That Loving Feeling, Ben, Make it With You, He 'Aint Heavy and Baby Don't Get Hooked on Me. B.J. gives each song something of herself and this is why she has proven to be so popular.

THE NEW GENERATION.....The New Generation Sings...
.....RCA ACL 1-0304.

The singing group whose association with Rolfe Harris has no doubt given their career a beneficial boost are really good. So good in fact that they stand up on their own against top singing groups of their type throughout the world.

This album presents a more than adequate portrait of the New Generation. The whole thing is loosely described as very gentle, easy listening. They perform gentle arrangements of a variety of songs from the pen of Carole King, who would undoubtedly be one of the most talented songwriters of all time.

Sample the following, Hi-De-Ho, You've Got a Friend I Feel the Earth Move and You Light Up My Life.

JIM HORN.....Jims Horns.....Shelter SW-8918.

Look at the liner notes on albums by today's top rock musicians and you'll find the name of Jim Horn on a large percentage of them.

Horn performed on most of the Leon Russell albums and on the Concert for Bangla Desh.

And now he has released his first album under his own name.

Now Jim Horn can't sing too well but he makes mighty music and wisely he has confined his efforts on this album mainly to playing - a job he does exceptionally well.

His talent with flute, tenor, baritone and alto sax is virtually unparalleled. His is a talent that has been used in studio sessions by the top men in the musical world and that in itself is sufficient recommendation.

On this album Jim Horn's talent has a field day and is given total free rein. The result is a collection of tracks that many will want to add to their collection, especially musicians.

FITZROY A v. MARIST A

Waiwakaiho to connect with Lower Mangati Road at Bell Block; opening up a vast recreational area along the coast and providing access to a fine beach.

On the western bank of the Waiwakaiho we could visit the completed Basin Reserve where small yachts, power boats and water skiing is the order of the day on a 25 acre lake. A completed recreational reserve extends from Clemow Rd, along the foreshore to East End and this will include the new Fitzroy Motor Camp Reserve. The NZR Regional marshalling yards and goods sheds are now operating in the Smart Road area and Stage 2 of the northern outlet provides an additional route north via Waiwaka Tce over a new Waiwakaiho Bridge to Smart Rd.

Turn into Gill Street at Gover Street because the parking precinct now extends from Liardet to Gover Streets and as we travel west we pass the new 8 storey State Fire Building and the very popular theatre included in this complex.

The rail sidings and goods sheds have gone and only the single rail track serving the Station and Port Taranaki remain. Additional car parking and access to the foreshore is provided from the Station to Kawaroa Park.

The City Centre is now taking shape and a Pedestrian Mall extends from the junction of Brougham and Ariki Streets into Devon Street and up to Currie Street.

Continue west to a busy Port area where industry continues to expand and a short drive past Paritutu will see a completed Centennial Park and a popular Back Beach which has replaced the area lost to Industry at Ngamotu.

There have been dramatic developments in this region resulting from Maui exploration but even a Crystal Ball wouldn't disclose the extent of this project.

We return to the City on Devon Street to Morley Street and there we turn right to gain access to the one-way pair (Powderham-Courtenay Streets and Vivian-Leach Streets will become a one way street system) which has solved so many of our traffic problems. Travelling up Courtenay Street we approach the Currie Street intersection and on the right is the Centre Shopping and Office Complex of five storeys with a multi floor car park for 280 cars. As we continue past Carrington Street we can see the overpass structure connecting Vivian and Leach Streets to complete the one-way pair traffic flow.

Turn right at Elliot Street lights and travel south past the Boys High School; on our right we will see the magnificent new Sports and Recreation Centre which has replaced all the old structures on the racecourse and now provides modern facilities for a multitude of activities.

On the left our Polytech is well established and is providing the essential training for future tradesmen so desperately needed in our expanding economy.

Somewhere on this trip through the City you may well see the new Complex under construction, which will house the Local Government Administrators - but I'm not too sure just where this building will be sited and my Crystal Ball is a little misty in this area.

Yes, a very exciting and progressive chapter in the history of this district will be written during this next decade.
