Christmas Greetings

Dear Reader, Yet another year is nearly past, and Christmas is upon us once again. Quite naturally we wish all our readers in all parts of the world a Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

We still have lots of fun in compiling "Photo News" and in doing so, making a host of friends; we only hope it is as much joy to you to read our magazine as it is for us to produce it.

Over the years, the demand is steadily growing so that we now have readers in all four corners of the world, besides countless ones throughout the length and breadth of New Zealand.

For those of you travelling during the holidays, we wish you a safe and happy journey. Look at our centre pages and see exactly what can happen with thoughtlessness on the part of some drivers. Play your part in helping to keep death off the road, by displaying some of that old-fashioned "Goodwill to all men".

Best of luck and health to you all,

Your Editor,
REG EVES.

OUR COVER

Gaylyn Wallis was chosen this month as our cover girl, and the spirit we have tried to introduce is the spirit of merriment. She certainly looks as though she would be fun at a Christmas party.

BACK COVER

One of the sights of New Plymouth of recent weeks is the Rhododendron Dell at Pukekura Park, not far from the Bowl. This area has been a riot of colour with some trees producing gigantic blooms.

NEWSPAPER BUILDING TAKES SHAPE

New Plymouth Show

The New Plymouth A & P Show seems to be losing some of its popularity. Though exhibitors maintain a constant high number, the public support goes down each year. Even the sideshow operators do far less business here than in other shows in the province. It appears to us that some super attraction is needed, plus co-operation from other organisations which hold events on the same day.
