

CHILDREN'S ART DISPLAY

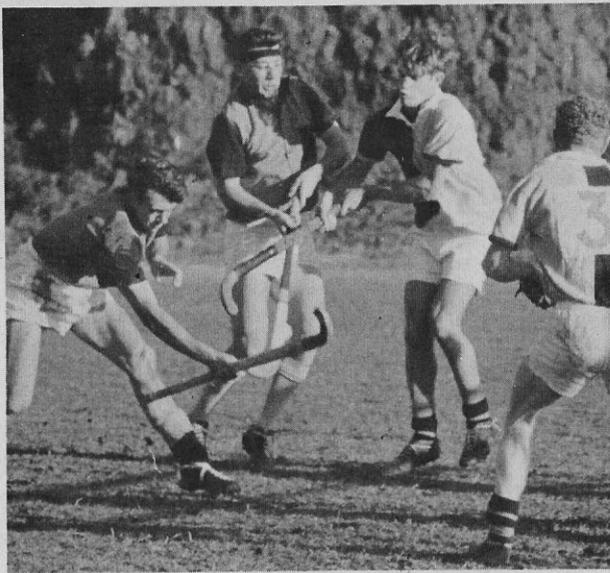

The Taranaki Society of Arts recently staged a very successful and interesting display of their pottery work, and ran, in conjunction, a display of schoolchildren's art. Here are some of the exhibits. Above, left: Robin Jacobson (Highlands) won the intermediate section with this painting. Above, centre: Work by Kenneth Burson (Highlands). Above, right: By Judith Slater, (Hawera High School). Below: By Deborah Wincombe (Highlands). Bottom, left: D.Wilks (NPBHS). Right: Lynda Wright (Hawera High School). Bottom, left: First in the secondary section was P.Dunlop (Hawera High School). Right: Fine animal study by Olive Wipers (Stratford High School).

SENIOR MEN'S HOCKEY

Married

Left: MITCHELL-FREER. At St. Augustines Church, New Plymouth, Charlene, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs F. C. V. Freer, NP, to Allan, second son of Mr J. R. Mitchell, Naenae. The bridesmaid was Carolyn Roberts, NP, and the best man was Bruce Roebuck, NP. Future home, New Plymouth.

Right: DAVEY-HENDRICKS. At St. Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Liesbeth, only daughter of Mrs B. Hendricks, NP, to Robin, eldest son of Mr and Mrs P. Davey, Waipukurau. Matron of honour was Linley Inch, Waitara, and the bridesmaid was Gay Robinson, Auckland. The best man was Barry Richardson, Levin, and the groomsmen was David Zidich. Future home. Auckland.

Left: KEITH-LONG. At St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Inglewood, Suzanne, only daughter of Mr and Mrs E. G. Long, Inglewood, to Bruce, third son of Mr and Mrs K. J. Keith, Waitara. Future home, Waitara.

DALTON'S DELIGHTS V. BURGESS BEAUTIES

We feel quite sure that the age of chivalry isn't dead, for when the Dalton's girls played Rugby against a team from Burgess Frasers, the former brought along their own referee, and yet still lost, 6-3. This is the sort of thing that should never happen, unless the Burgess Beauts put a few extra players on the paddock! Which is a distinct possibility. Despite this, it was a case of a good time all round, with bruises which could not be displayed to all and sundry. We've been fortunate enough in scrutinizing some, and they were whoppers! Above: Burgess players Margaret Hagan and Gail Hopkinson tackle this unfortunate Daltonian. Right: At half-time there was plenty of advice on hand! Below: Ref Gary Martin tries to sort things out. Below, right: Stephanie Connell gets on her knees, but is helped up by Judy Dollery.

Above: Those Burgess Beauts bored in at the slightest provocation, and this poor Daltonian is about to bite the dust as she's collared by Margaret Hagan, Helen Turley and Gail Hopkinson. As you can see, the game was so fast that the poor old ref couldn't keep up with these fit young wenches. Joy Pascoe comes in to the rescue but we feel she would have been too late. Below: Natalie Roberts has the ball, and she's got her eyes closed in anticipation of what is about to hit her. Right: Nancy Thomas has the ball, but Natalie Roberts goes in after her, with Pamela Rowlands coming up in support. Below, right: Margaret Hagan seems to be a superwoman as she gets along with the ball with half of the Daltonians on her back.

MARRIED

Above: WOOLDRIDGE-KLATT. At St. Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Lorraine Margaret, second daughter of Mrs R.E.Klatt, New Plymouth, to Peter, only son of Mr and Mrs V.Wooldrige, Inglewood. The bridesmaids were Marie and Alison Klatt, sisters of the bride, NP, and Bernadette Herke, Auckland. The best man was Maurice Barrow, Whangarei, and the groomsmen were Michael Dodunski, Inglewood, and Allan Eversfield, Inglewood. The flowergirl was Leonie Dickie, NP. Future home, Inglewood. (VOGUE STUDIOS).

Below: COOPER-PENNINGTON. At St. John's Presbyterian Church, Hawera, Barbara, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs J.L. Pennington, Manaia, to Arnold John, only son of Mr and Mrs I.I. Cooper, Hawera. The matron of honour was Joyce Campbell, sister of the bride, Manaia, and the bridesmaid was Morag Paul, Hawera. The best man was Frank Cooper, New Plymouth, and the groomsmen were Dennis Rickerby, Hawera. Future home, Hawera. (DAVID PAUL STUDIOS).

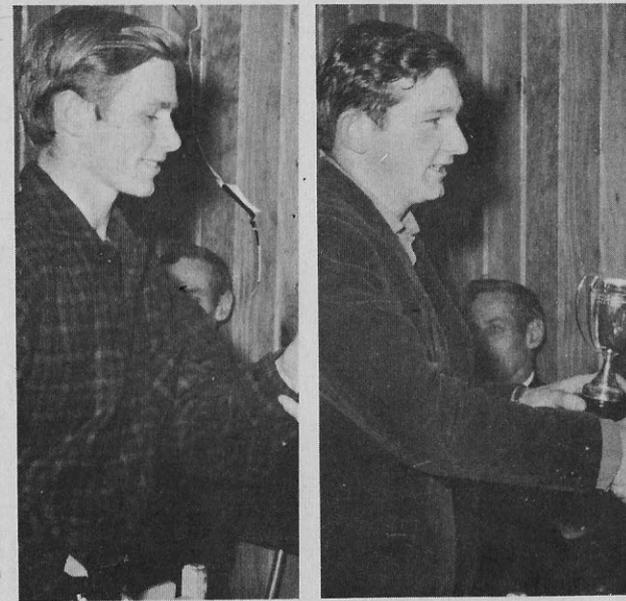

BUSHCRAFT CLUB

The Taranaki Bushcraft and Hunting Club, an organisation which does sterling service in the community by teaching people how to survive in bush country, besides teaching safety with firearms, recently held its annual meeting in conjunction with the presentation of trophies won during the year. The club, formed only about four years ago, now boasts a strong membership with the assurance that it will function for many years to come. Winners of trophies pictured here are, above: Winner of the .22 shoot was president Jock Kelly, here presenting his own trophy to his daughter. Above, right: Large calibre shoot and 200-yd shoot were won by Nev. Hill. Right: Club captain Colin Taylor presents his prize to Richard Cash. Below, centre: Trophy for the best pig tusks was won by Peter Shoebidge. Below, right: Best goat head trophy went to Charlie Devine.

Coming of Age

Below: Helen, daughter of Mr and Mrs H. Levings, Hawera, celebrated her 21st at the Normanby Hall and is shown with her mother and father.

The Huatoki Scouts and Cubs have recently celebrated their 19th birthday with a rather lively party in their den. Above: To cut the cake were Michael Bowler, the youngest Cub, and Philip Donnelly, the oldest Scout. Above, right: Cub leader Don Harvey was on this evening presented with his wood badge by DC Ed Collins, shown here adjusting his new scarf. Below: Other presentations were made during the evening to Cubs of the pack who had made the necessary progress during the year. Here the Cub Commissioner Mrs Coleman makes a presentation of badges. Right: Three young Cubs smile as they are given their badges. Below, right: Happy lot, aren't they?

Brownies birthday

Above: The Huatoki Brownie pack recently celebrated their tenth birthday with a shipwreck party, when all the girls got suitably dressed for this very important occasion in the life of their pack. It was a great party for them, as there was plenty to eat, and many games to play. Our photograph shows the entire pack, with the cake being cut by Patricia Moorcock, who this year is going up to the Huatoki guide company.

New mountain lodge

Above: Opened recently is the new mountain lodge on the slopes of Egmont, up on the Manganui grounds on the Stratford side. This fine building will serve a very useful purpose on that side of Egmont, especially with the number of visitors who flock to the Manganui slopes during any fine spell.

Married

Above: MORROW-STRATTON. At Waitara Presbyterian Church, Marion Wendy, only daughter of Mr and Mrs S. A. Stratton, Tongaporutu, to David Edward, second son of Mrs V. Morrow, Gisborne. Bridesmaid was Doreen Andrews, Waitara, and best man was Barrie Morrow, brother of the groom. Future home, Tongaporutu.

Centre: SMITH-PRESNEY. At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, NP, Marilyn Joy, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs N. A. Presney, NP, to John Desmond, third son of Mr and Mrs W. J. Smith, NP. Bridesmaid was Diane Burlace, NP, and best man was Graham Smith, brother of the groom, Lepperton. Flower-girls were Christine Ruck, Inglewood, and Pauline Presney, sister of the bride, NP. Future home, Whenuakura.

Below: KIVELL-FOWLER. At St. Joseph's Church, Hawera, Lynette, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs I. R. Fowler, Hawera, to Gary, only son of Mr and Mrs F. T. Kivell, Hawera. The bridesmaids were Lorraine Minton, Auckland, Judy Evenson, Hawera, and Heather Fowler, sister of the bride, Hawera. Best man was Lindsay Watkins, Hawera, and the groomsmen were H. R. Wren, Tokoroa, and Paul Death, Hawera. Future home, Hawera.

Wellbourn Scouts and Cubs

The Wellbourn Scout groups have recently celebrated their thirteenth birthday in their new den with a party that was made all the more successful by the attendance of a large number of parents. Games in the true party spirit made the affair go with a swing, enjoyed by all. Above: The Cub pack rendered a few camp fire songs. Right: Parents in a balloon bursting competition. Below: The Cub pack, full muster for this very important evening. Bottom: Apple bobbing competition, made more difficult as the objectives were mandarins

Above: The Wellbourn Scout group photographed on their thirteenth birthday party, which is the one night of the year when there is a really full muster. Above, right: Competitions at the party for the parents included a race with a bill held between the knees. The women certainly had it over the men. Right: Three Scouts put on a natty demonstration of first aid with a home-made ambulance, complete with siren and flashing red light. Here the ambulance piloted by Doctor David Jarvis and pushed by nurse David Inns to the rescue of patient Barry Cruse. Below: The doctor soon had things right, patching the patient up with professional skill, while at the bottom right the patient is "loaded" on to the ambulance, never to be seen again!

Married

Left: WINDLEBURN-KEENAN. At St. Aubyn Methodist Church, Pamela Iris, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs D. Keenan, NP, to Bruce Norman, only son of Mr and Mrs E. G. Windleburn, Blenheim. The two bridesmaids were sisters of the bride, Barbara and Shirley Keenan, NP. The best man was Richard Caldwell, Westport. Future home, Ohakea.

Below: MARTIN-BROUGH. At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, NP, Verna, only daughter of Mr and Mrs J. T. Brough, Waitara, to Elwyn, third son of Mr and Mrs J. Martin, NP. Bridesmaids were Maree Hodder, Okato, Dianne McNeil, Pukekohe, and Anne Greiner, NP. Best man was Gavin Brough, brother of the bride, Waitara, and the groomsmen were Warwick Brough, brother of the bride, Waitara, and Murray Martin, brother of the groom, NP. The page boy was Graeme McNeil, Pokeno. Future home, NP.

W.D.F.F. DELEGATES

Group of W.D.F.F. delegates from all parts of the province photographed at the New Plymouth Airport prior to their departure to the W.D.F.F. Dominion conference. Travelling south, they were all done up well against what they knew would be a cold climate!

HAIL STORM

Below: Little did those W.D.F.F. delegates know that it was probably colder in New Plymouth than in places further south. This was the scene in Devon Street one day recently, after a hail storm. Within seconds, the street was covered. We got a long, hot summer, but oh boy, are we paying the price now! How many of you oldies can remember such atrocious conditions that we've had over the last month?

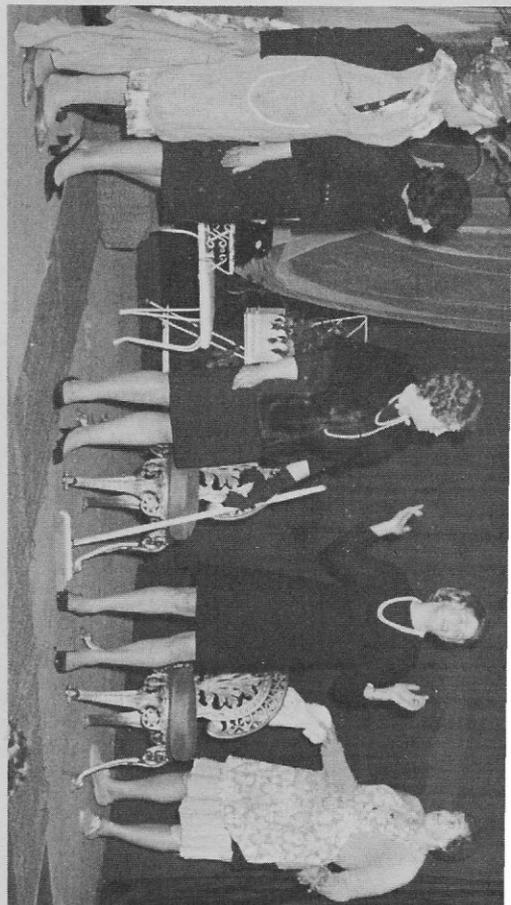

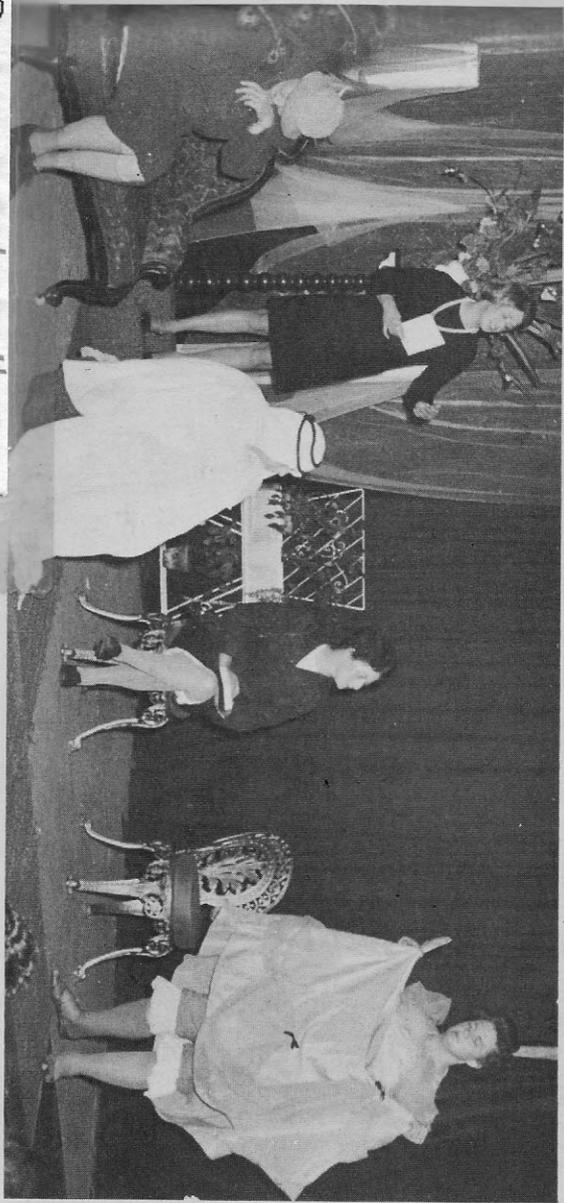

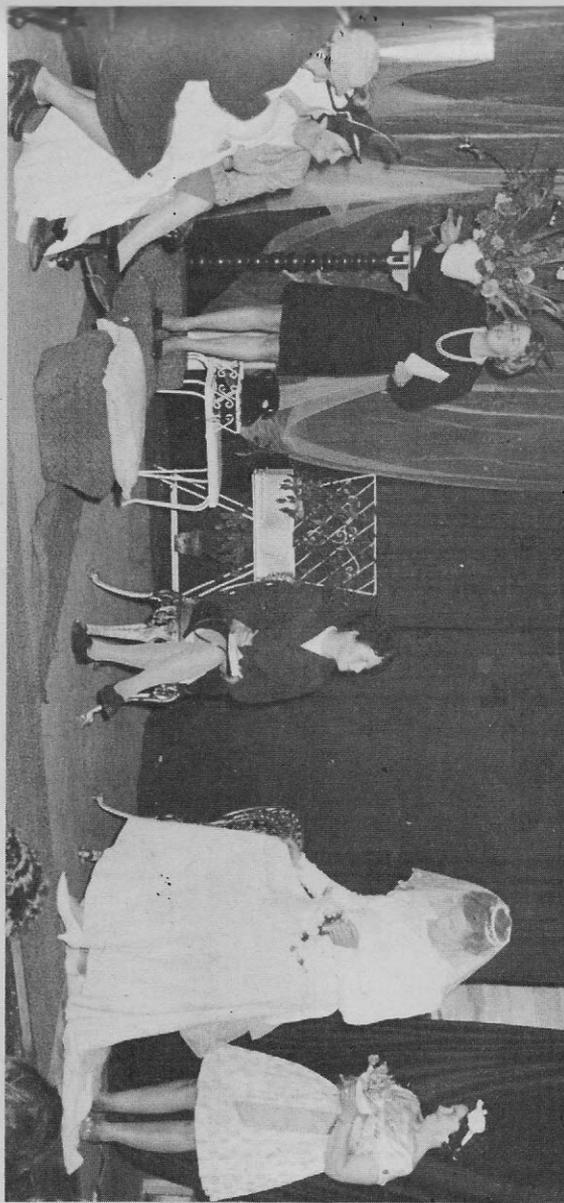

C.W.I. Drama Festival At Little Theatre

The annual CWI Drama Festival provided some very good acting since all these women have very limited experience, on stage, and in front of a very large audience. The winning play, by the Westown institute was a good play, but not quite such a comedy as the other two plays produced. Here is a comedy by combined CWI's "Waiting at the Church" which provided plenty of mirth from the audience. In this play were Joy Narbey, Elsie Wheals, Gloria Young, Wendy Narbey, May Tullett, Pat Belcher and Joan Gatland. Don't know where these women get the props and costumes, but they certainly were of a period not often seen.

"Make Mine Mayfair" was a comedy at the CWI festival that we thought was as well presented as anything we have seen in the truly amateur line, played by the Kaponga CWI. It was labelled "a comedy" and this it surely was. The cast included Bernadette Crowley, Homer Dudley, Gay Goodin, Fiona Collins, Margaret Watts, Rose Cameron, Elaine Nisbet and Joan Oakes. Right: Madam Dorie (Fiona Collins) throws up her arms in despair. Below: Fashion parade for the wealthy. Bottom: Latest creations as displayed by a pseudo mannequin.

TARANAKI'S LEAGUE WIN

There's little doubt that the Taranaki League team has had a shot in the arm or something--they downed the formidable Wellington pack in their annual encounter at Pukekura Park recently, and on this showing can only be rated much higher than previously. They played wonderful football to beat their visitors by 12-9 on a very greasy pitch, with crisper ball control and slicker passing than we have ever seen before. Above, left: Feature of the game was the brilliant tackling of the home team. Here Harry Knuckey flies in to the tackle. Above, right: Here's another of those tackles that spelled doom to Wellington's chances of a win. Below, left: Barry Phillips and John Hopi got their man smothered. Below, right: John Hopi gets the ball from Wellington captain Neil Berry.

ROUGH SEAS

My! oh my! haven't we had a miserable spell of weather lately? We ripped down to the port one cold, wet day and found that the seas were so huge that the whole of the breakwater was at times right under water. Here you can plainly see the turmoil as the huge green seas kept their relentless thundering of the breakwater.

Wedding Bells

Left: PHILLIPS-RICHARDSON. At St. Paul's Catholic Church, Spotswood, Gloria Knowlean, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs F. J. Richardson, Oakura, to Edward James, eldest son of Mr E. Phillips, Waitara, and the late Mrs Phillips. The matron of honour was Ellma Fisher, sister of the bride, Rahotu, and the bridesmaid was Averil Spice, Hawera. Best man was John Andreoli, and the groomsman was Tom O'Dowd, both Okaiawa. Future home, Okaiawa.

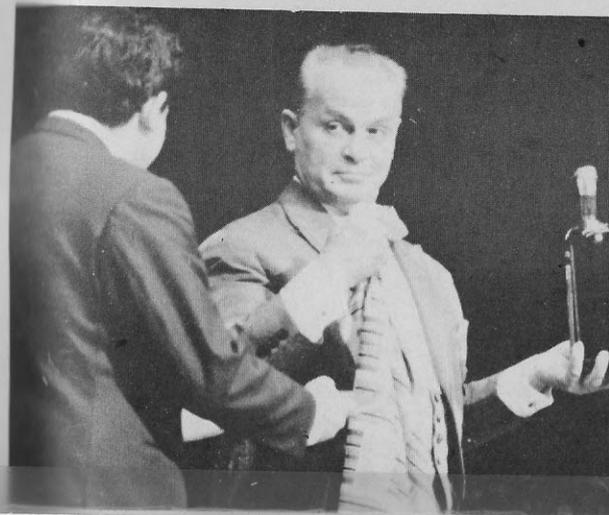

Below: MARTIN-ADLAM. At St. Michael's Church, NP, Elizabeth Mary, (Betty), second daughter of Mrs E.M. Adlam, NP, and the late Mr R.H. Adlam, to Gary, elder son of Mr and Mrs Les Martin, NP. The bridesmaids were Yvonne and Dawn Adlam, sisters of the bride, NP. Best man was Graeme McDowell, NP, and the groomsman was Brian Martin, brother of the groom, NP. The wee flower-girl was Kim Coleman, Kaikohe. Future home, NP. (VOGUE).

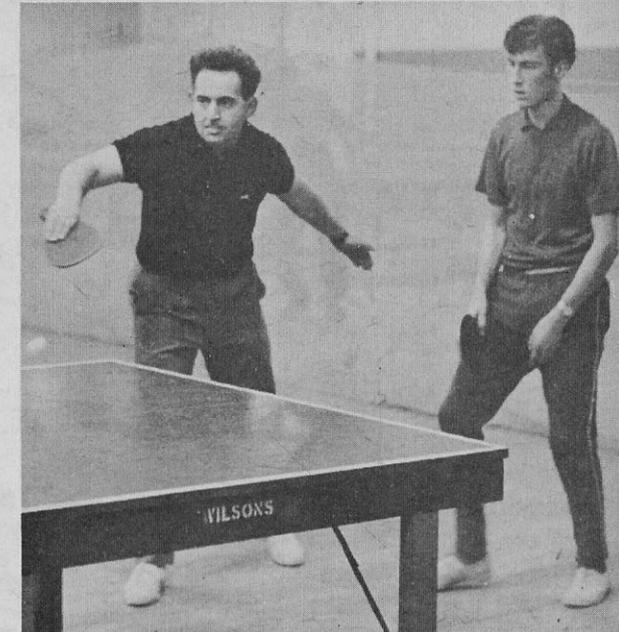

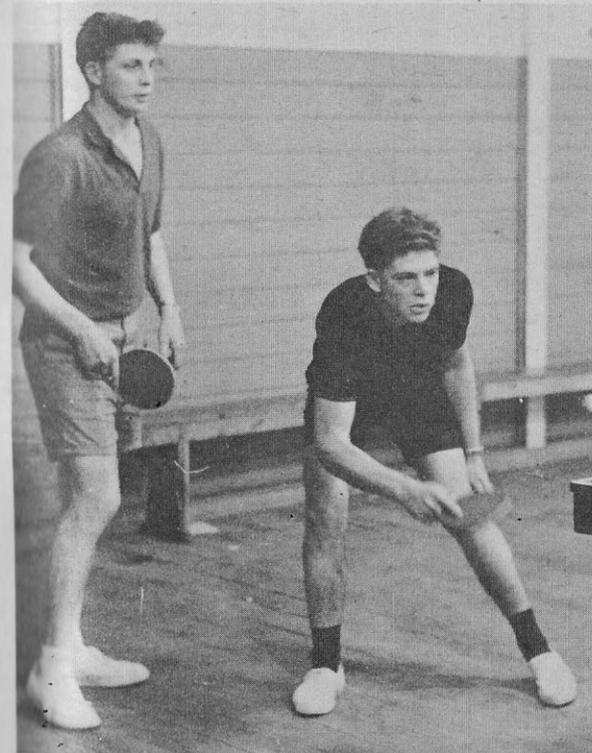

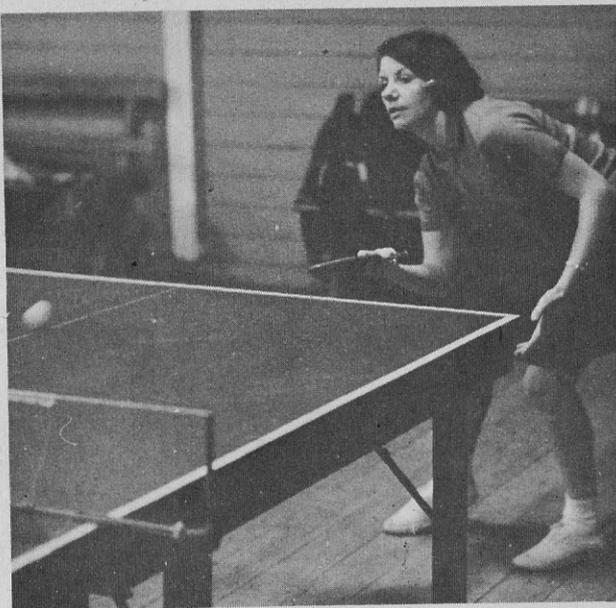

Below, left: Wizard man David Chitashvili had every one guessing. Below: Member of a dance trio, Galina Medvedeva, was fantastically light on her feet and a delight to the enthralled audience.

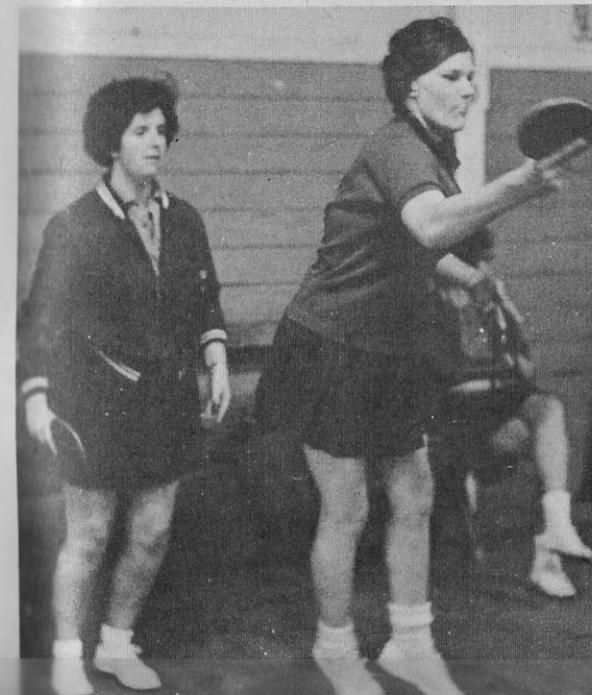

RUSSIAN SPEC- TACULAR

Spectacular is about the only word to describe the touring show of Russian artists. There were feats performed on the NP Opera House stage that will probably never be seen again, such as the class of the performers. As artists, these Russians must be about the best in the world. Above, left: Zinaida Evtikhova and Nikolai Fateev have been champions of the USSR for five years. Above, centre: Ivan Kozhevnikov, a juggler with hats. Above, right: Girl with the golden voice was Margarita Suvorova.

Above: Ross Yeates and Kevin Hinz of the Mangamahoe men's team played well as a pair and were unlucky to lose the final to the Wanganui team. Above, right: In play against Mangamahoe's Hinz and Yeates are Stratford's D. Walker and M. Goodwin during their semi-final match. Below: Joy Orr and Pat Kovaleski of Stratford in play in their doubles match.

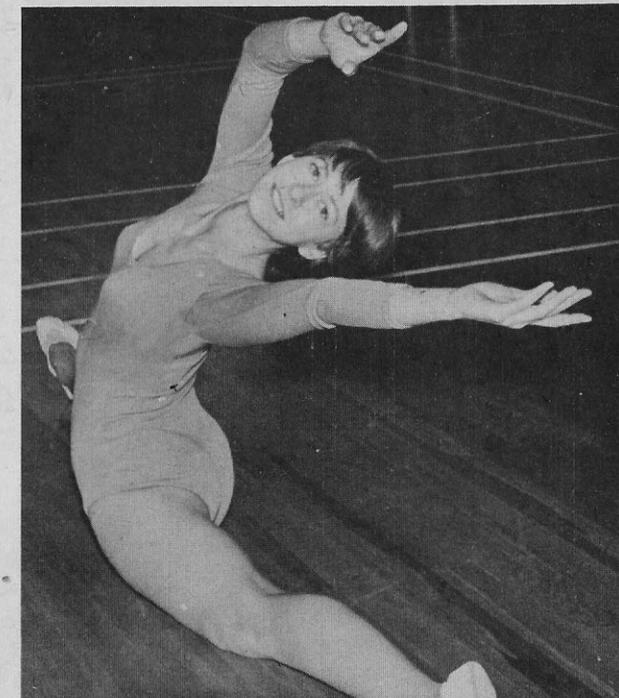

MANGAMAHOE WIN

The North Taranaki Table Tennis Association's annual open teams tournament held in New Plymouth recently was highlighted by the win of the Mangamahoe ladies in the women's section. The winners of the men's was the Wanganui team. All local teams figured well throughout the tourney. Pictured on this page are members of the Mangamahoe ladies in their semi-final round against the Stratford team. Above: Anne Dravitski chops one back over the net. Above, right: her sister Betty Dravitski keeps her eye on the ball. Right: Stratford's Pat Kovaleski watches her return go over. Below: Betty Dravitski and Christine Sole partnered for the doubles. Below, right: Joy Orr, Stratford, doesn't look very pleased with her return.

Nominated for Mexico

After many strenuous hours of training and practice, New Plymouth's Francine Dove, shown below, had been nominated for the NZ gym squad for the Olympic Games at Mexico City. It would be true to say that there is always a reward for hard work such as Francine has done over the past two years. But unfortunately she just didn't make the grade. Perhaps in another four years Francine—just keep on with that strenuous training, and the next Olympics may see you as a competitor.

PRIESTS ORDAINED AT WAITARA

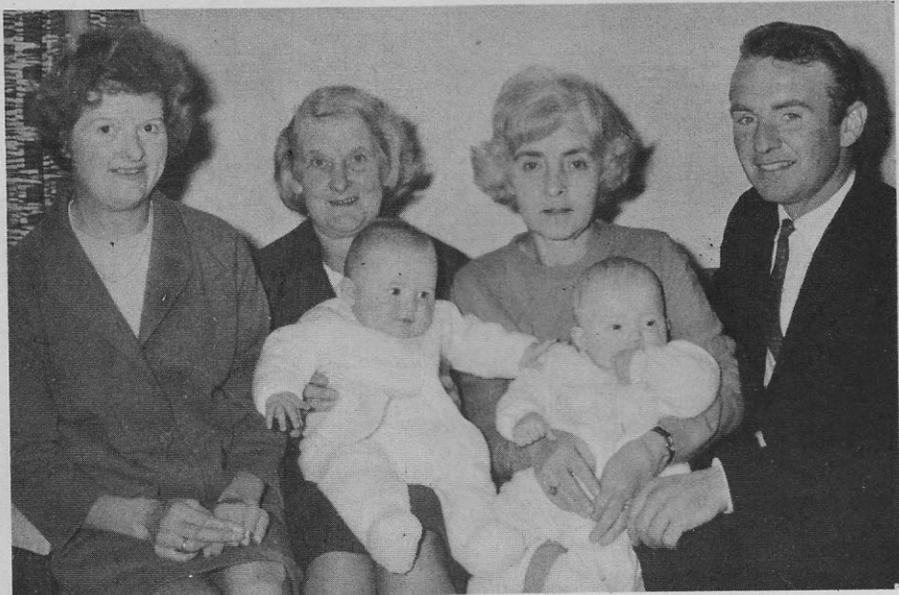

The Bishop of Dunedin, the Most Rev. J. P. Kavanagh, conducted the first ordination service to be held at Waitara when he initiated his cousin and a young NP man into the Roman Catholic priesthood recently. St. Joseph's church was packed for the occasion at which Mr. J. Kavanagh, Waitara, and Mr. M. Lynch, NP, were ordained priests. Above: Impressive part of the service after the ordination. Below, left: After the ordination, the new priest, Mr. J. Kavanagh, takes communion. Left is Mr. J. Kavanagh, and at the right is Mr. M. Lynch.

Right: Went out to the Wai-wakaiho bridge during one of our wetter spells, expecting to see at least one of the bridges washed away, but no, both were still standing, though the railway bridge, on which the Railway Department is working, could have been endangered. The crane looked none too safe to us.

Below: The christening of the twin sons, Michael and Christopher, of Mr and Mrs Phil Fegan, NP, brought together the two grandmothers who had come all the way from Liverpool for this event. Here they are, Mrs Lava Case and Mrs Edith Fegan with the twins.

NEW MOTORWAY NEARLY READY

The new motorway which runs from the Wellbourn school for 70 chains south is getting to the stage where it can be used. The only thing that is holding back the Works Department is the weather, a thing which holds most of us back at times. This fine new outlet would have been ready now but for the rainy conditions, but it will definitely be in use by December...unless, of course we still get bad weather, but that would be unlikely in Taranaki, wouldn't it? Above: The intersection into Coronation Avenue, looking south, and the roundabout that is now in operation. Below: View of the new road from the Inglewood end, right through to Wellbourn. Bottom: View from the bridge over Junction Road looking north to the city end.

SHOW MONSTER

Holyoake's central heating display at the Winter Show caused some amusement, especially for the youngsters, with their robot Archie. He was a source of amazement to the small boys, as is shown here. Don't know what this young fellow is thinking, but it looks as if he's going to try and lead Archie out of the show.
