OUR COVER

The last roses of summer. Well, we can't say that summer has deserted us, can we? This attractive photograph was taken behind Mikotahi, down at the port with Paritutu as a backdrop. The girls are Janice and Joy, twin daughters of Mrs E. Opai, Omata Road, New Plymouth.

BACK COVER

This is the sort of picture which will not be recorded many more times, as machines now do all the work once done by horses. Here Mavis Muggidge helps with hay sweeping on her father's Norfolk Road, Inglewood, property.

Vogeltown School Jubilee

Hundreds of people of all ages gathered over the Easter holiday for the 50th jubilee of the Vogeltown school. Threatening skies and a gusty wind didn't deter the large crowd, which listened intently to the speeches. Following the official part of the proceedings, decade groups were taken. Above: Here are sixteen of the thirty-three first-day pupils. Centre of the group is Mrs A. M. Lang, formerly Mrs A. M. Wilkes, the first teacher at the school. Below: The second decade was a large one. Bottom: These ex-pupils all live in the Frankley park area, and had a special photograph taken. ## Whangarei Songsters Visit City

Over the Anzac weekend a group of very talented singers from the Salvation Army Citadel at Whangarei visited the city. They gave a concert at the NP Citadel on Saturday to a crowded hall, and on the following day were joined by the choirs of Holy Trinity, Fitzroy, the Baptist and Methodist churches of New Plymouth, and the NP Salvation Army group in massed choir singing which was a joy to listen to. Above: The NP Salvation Army Band and the massed choirs performing in St. Andrew's Hall. Below: The Whangarei Songsters, who, incidentally, paid all their own expenses for the trip, performing under the baton of Colin Davidson at the NP Citadel.

Anzac Parade At Inglewood

Over 100 ex-servicemen took part in the main Anzac service at Inglewood. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. T. Kent, and the guest speaker was Mr S. W. Horner. The Inglewood Municipal band led the parade to the Cenotaph where a short wreath-laying ceremony took place. Below: Inglewood's ex-servicemen on the march from the Cenotaph. Bottom: Inglewood's Mayor, Mr R. Brown, stands beside the Cenotaph and the field of Remembrance after the laying of the wreaths.

Thrills At Last Stock Car Meet

The final stock car meeting for the current season was perhaps one of the most thrilling, with cars piling up, rolling and sliding on all corners of the track, which thrilled the thousands who witnessed it. This sport has grown in popularity over the past year, to the extent that it now rates some of the best crowds of all the summer sports, only bettered by the Saturday Speedway in New Plymouth.

K. Hosking, Stratford, forces a competitor off the track

B. Stevenson, Kaponga, gets flipped round, with another driver following suit.

Just after being turned, B. Stevenson met another driver head on, with little damage.

Quite a procession...not without its bangs, rolls and skids.

There were pile-ups like this all through the meeting, and it is amazing how these accomplished drivers seem to extricate themselves from the melee.

Field Day At Moa Factory

Over 500 suppliers and their wives, recently attended a field day at the Moa Dairy Factory at Inglewood. The day started with a tour of the factory in small groups, followed by luncheon on the lawn, after which the official part of the day took place, including an address by Sir Andrew Linton, chairman of the Dairy Board. It was a day enjoyed by all, many of whom had never seen the inside of a dairy factory.

Tukapo Midgets Sign On

Looks like a good season for the Tukapo Club's midgets again, with ever-increasing numbers of the young fry signing on. A recent Saturday saw dozens of the lads ready and willing to get into the football season, when they signed on. Club officials had a busy couple of hours with these enthusiastic youngsters.

Kids Day At The Speedway

Easter Monday was kids' day at the Speedway, and a fine day it was too, with thousands of children taking part in the various races organised specially for them. As this day grows in popularity, so the Dads get busy and build some of the most fantastic racers seen on the circuit. On behalf of the children of the district we thank the boys of the racing club who devote so much of their time to give the kids a wonderful day out.
