Fitzroy Scouts

Forty-one years is a long time for the life of a Scout troop, but the Fitzroy troop can boast a life of that length, and by the look of their roll they will be in existence for many years to come. Plenty of parents turned up for the birthday tea, including the Mayor and Mayoress, Mr and Mrs A. G. Honnor, the member for NP, Mr Ron Barclay, and the ex-member, Mr E. P. Aderman. Above, left: Scoutmaster Roy Hopkins, now in his 50th year of Scouting, explains the function of cutting the cake, and above, right, helps Roy Hopkins (no relation) and Cub Stephen Novak to cut the cake. Left: Roy congratulates the troop's newest Queen's scout, Robert Archibald. Below: Pictured with the masters are the two boys who are to attend the next jamboree in Australia. 41st Birthday

CREATIVE DANCING CONCERT

What a wonderful night it was for the children and their parents at the recent concert given by the Mendhl School of Creative Dancing. The Little Theatre was packed to the doors for this once-a-year show with parents and friends, and it seemed to us that this will become an annual event, so successful was it. Many types of dancing was witnessed, and the costumes were about as colourful as any we have seen at similar shows. Above: These children were dancing a Tyrolean national dance to the music of Schuhplattler. Right: Dance of the spider and fly by Karen and Dianne Johns. Below: Final scene of the night shows producer Erica Lagore at left. Her production of the "Sleeping Beauty" was one which all but brought the house down.

Big Rise for Wharf Workers

Yes, a big rise, not in pay, but in title. It might sound hard to believe, but we heard from a reliable source that the wharfie doesn't want to be called a wharfie any more, the title now is CARGOLOGIST! Now that their title is changed, could be that they will roll up to work in top hat and umbrella. The name will certainly give a lift to their profession, and we're all in favour.

Folk Singers

Below: Here are six of the seven folk singers at the recent Highlands school music festival, and they were easy to listen to, with a good sense of harmony. The seven are, Linley Bruce, Jocelyn Fake, Deborah Furness, Judith Innes, Linda Morwood, Maryan Street and Patricia Ubels.

Social Scene

Four Generations of the Crow family of NP, are Wayne (father), Alan (grandfather), and seated, great-grandfather Jack with baby Gregory.

Married

Left: SHORT-CLARK. At St. Chad's Anglican Church, NP, Sandra, only daughter of Mrs H. E. Clark, NP, to Rodney, only son of Mr and Mrs W. F. Short, NP. The bridesmaids were Ruth Plumley, Hamilton, and Sandra Ahern, Hamilton. Best man was Geoff Ward, NP, and the groomsmen were Barry Clark, brother of the groom, NP. Future home, Wellington.

Art Exhibition

The art exhibition by local artists in the museum has some very good work on show. It always surprises us that there are so many talented artists in the ranks of the amateurs in this district. Here we reproduce some of the works on show. Above, left: The Rock by Tom Esplin, price 100 dollars. Above, centre: Abstract by Dorothy Sprattley, $60. Above, right: Hand made jewellery. Right: Pylons, by Anton Reitsma. Below: Moon, by Barry S. Brown, $70. Below, right: Sails by Norman W. J. Scott, $60.

Above: Portrait by Robert Chilvers. This did not have a price tag. Below: The Boatshed by Michael Smithers. Below, centre: Japanese wrestlers, a wood carving. Below, right: Genii, by Ren, another wood carving priced at $37. Above, right: Islands by Barry S. Brown and priced at $100. Right: Reardon's Tavern by John Rundle. This had no price tag but was a fine piece of work.

NEW PLYMOUTH CLUB CABARET. Highlight of the year at the New Plymouth Club is the annual cabaret. This year, it was particularly well patronised, and needless to say, a good time was had by all. It was a friendly and sociable evening, with the added attraction of cigarette girls—quite an innovation.

YMCA Gym Champs

The NP YMCA recently held their first ever Gym Champs, open only to members of the YM. The championships drew a large entry in all grades, and was considered a huge success. Here, we have photographed some of the contestants in the junior events. Above: Tony Mack gets a bit of help over the horse. Below: Gym club president, Trevor Creagh, presents a certificate to Graham Leathly and Brett Giles. Bottom, left: Wayne Williamson goes over the horse. Above, right: On the beam is Julie Austin. Centre, right: Margaret Brooker. Bottom, right: Heather Creagh talks to competitors before the start of an event.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL BALL. The recent ball at the NP Girls' High School was an outstanding success. To us, it's just amazing how popular these functions are. The students, and their boy friends and parents, all help to make the occasion a real success.

THIS MONTH'S COMPETITION

How good is your knowledge of horticulture? Here we have five flowers which are in bloom in the park now, among a host of other attractive blooms. For the first LETTER opened with the correct horticultural names of these five flower pictures, we will give a free year's subscription, valued at $3.80. It won't be easy, because we want the full horticultural name only. Have a try and address your letters to "Competition", Photo News, Box 427, New Plymouth.

LAST MONTH'S WINNER

You remember that old building we published as the competition last month? We didn't get too many replies that were anywhere near correct, but one from Mr W.J. Baldock, 4 Brown Street, New Plymouth, was the first correct one opened, and the picture was of the Prince of Wales Hotel at Bell Block.

Married

Above: BURGESS-GILLIES. At St. James's Church, NP, Heather, only daughter of Mr and Mrs J. Gillies, NP, to Doug, son of Mr and Mrs P. Burgess, Oparua. The bridesmaids were Katen Loveridge, NP, and Luanne Russ, NP. Best man was Keith Burgess, brother of the groom, Oparua, and the groomsman was Graeme Gillies, brother of the bride, NP. Future home, Eltham. (VOGUE STUDIOS).

Best man was Keith Hay, brother of the groom, Auckland, and the groomsman was Rex Parr, Wellington. Future home, Wellington.

Girls' High School Sports

Once again, the weather was just right for the annual NP Girls' High School sports. Not so many records were broken this year, but some very creditable performances were recorded. Above: This was part of the crowd of girls round the jumping pit, watching the final of the intermediate high jump. Below: The 440 yard events were an all-in affair, with about seventy starters in each. This of course eliminated the running of heats, but it did seem rather a lot of runners for one event. Still, it didn't take one lap of the track to sort out the wheat from the chaff. Here the start of the race looks a bit crowded--the finish was a bit different. Bottom: Ready for the go, and the girls are about six deep.

The 440-yard events at the NPCGS sports intrigued us with the number of starters. Top: First away on the inside running had as good a chance as anyone. Above: Strung out on the track after only half a lap. Left: The novelty event caused much laughter. Here the contestants get into their gear, soon after the start of the race. Below, left: Drinking a glass of water was one of the obstacles, while another, below, was the eating of icecream. Eat it, girl, not use it as make-up!

LOCAL BANDS AT HAWERA FESTIVAL

Photographed here on their street march portion of the Brass Bands contests at Hawera recently are local bands taking part in the contest. Though the competitions didn't attract too many of the public, which is a pity, because the quality of the playing was very high, to those who did attend, it must have been a delight to hear such stirring music as these bands provided. Above: The NP City Band on the march. Below: Queen Alexander's Own Band from Wanganui. Below, centre: The Patea Municipal Band complete with their mascot, at right. Bottom: Host band, the Hawera Municipal, one of the best bands in the country. (DAVID PAUL STUDIOS).

CWI ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER

The North Taranaki CWI members recently held their annual get-together and afternoon tea and concert in the St. Mary's Hall in the city. The hall was full for this popular event, and the programme of entertainment was a very good one, despite a small power failure. One of the highlights of the afternoon was the community singing led by Mrs Willi Riding, shown above, in three distinct moods. At left, this side of the hall receives admonition for not letting themselves go, while centre, Willi calls for a note to be held, a la Sir Malcolm Sargeant and right claps her singers after a good rendition of one of the older favourites. Below: Members of the audience are shown at ease and attentive.

Below: MARCHANT-WRIGHT. At the Whiteley Methodist Church, NP, Isobel, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs H.R. Wright, NP, to Claude, third son of Mrs F.J. Marchant, Stratford, and the late Mr C.A. Marchant. The matrons of honour were Gloria Dravitski, NP, and Jan Hains, Tauranga. The bridesmaid was Judy Donnelly, NP. Best man was Brian Gauld, Stratford, and the groomsmen were Philip Marchant, brother of the groom, Stratford, and Deane Kelly, Stratford. The future home, Stratford.

Brownies... Women Bowlers

Above: Right in the heart of the Taranaki countryside in Alfred road, there's a house known as Ivy's Cottage, used solely for camps for the Brownies of the province. This house, which needed a little repair and is now in first-class order, is the home of Brownies at weekends, and is a wonderful asset to the association. Here the youngsters can learn and play together away from home, under the guidance of experienced leaders. Our picture shows members of the Fitzroy and Bell Block packs outside their cottage, just under the mountain.

Below: With the first-ever national tournament to be held in the province of the Women's Bowling Association, much preparation has had to be done. The Dominion president recently visited the province and is here shown at the clubhouse of the Riverside Club after a quick inspection of the greens in the district.

WELBOURN

FANCY DRESS

The annual fancy-dress of the Welbourn school recently took place at the Queen's Hall, which was filled to capacity for the event. Above: The school choir provided music for some of the primary dancers. Right: There were fancy-dresses of every description at the ball. Below: Bride and cowboy in action. Below, right: The beef-eater and the gypsy girl dancing for their parents.

Stratford's Bargain Boulevard

Practically everything that was for sale at the recent Lions-organised Bargain Boulevard at Stratford was sold at the end of a hectic day. The variety of goods ranged from a pin to a camel, as it were, and the auctioneers did a wonderful job in clearing most of the goods. It certainly was a great effort. Above: Part of the large crowd that milled around the auctioneer. Below: Some of the articles for sale would be ideal for the bach. Right: It was a busy day for these two Lions who were raffling petrol vouchers.

PRESENTATIONS

Left: Gus Miscall, who drove the first Gibsons through bus to Auckland way back in 1928, was recently honoured at his retirement. Our picture shows Gus and his wife receiving gifts from the manager of Gibsons, Graham Prestidge. Below: On the same evening, Lance Askew also received a presentation for a period of 17 years with the company.

THE CONVENT-1899

The picture below, painted by A.Hearn in 1899, shows the New Plymouth Convent as it was then on the corner of Devon and Dawson Streets. Some difference to the view today, and some difference to the view it will be when the new Catholic Church and centre is built. Running across the right-hand corner of the picture is Dawson Street, while across the centre is Devon Street, with the only traffic in sight—a horse. This painting belongs to the Convent, and is considered a valuable addition to their collection.

The future home, Palmerston North. (DAVID PAUL).

During Fire Prevention Week recently, the NP brigade held open house at the fire station on each evening, which was very well attended by the general public. After a few demonstrations, a comedy item was provided by the NP brigadesmen who had the audience in fits of laughter. Above: Turn on the water! A good idea if you don't get too much of it. Right: Rescuer on the way up.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK HAD ITS LAUGHS

WESTOWN LADIES' HIGH JINKS

We went out to Westown Golf Course recently for the fancy dress golf match...Coo, what sights we saw! If only their husbands knew what they got up to! Above: These were the kitchen maids for the day. Top: What's a mechanic doing on a golf course? And a Mod? Centre: The wind was very helpful to our cameraman. And a ghost! What next? Below, from left: That's right Mum, keep those knees warm. "Don't kiss me," she says (she didn't look too busy to us!) Those mini-skirts must have been uncomfortable. Plus fours! That takes us back a bit.

Here's some more of the LADIES of the Westown Golf club at their fancy-dress game. Far left: The owner of this outfit was perhaps the only warm one on the course. Left: We didn't know they let Red Indians play golf. Right: Just look at that swing--no wonder she was in rags. Far right: Doctor, nurse or ghost--we couldn't make it out. Below, from left: Schoolgirl and ref. in the same four. And we would like to know who let the waitress on the course. Perhaps she was looking for tips. Here's a real mod, and last of all, the big game hunter--we didn't see any tigers out there.

Scouts' and Cubs' Competitions

We went out to the recent Scouts and Cubs competitions day on a farm towards Waitara. We found plenty of Cubs, but only a couple of Scouts--they must have gone bush. Working in different groups, they were in competition with each other, and it was a keen day that the boys spent in the open. Above: Members of the Waitara Cubs were involved in the problem of tying knots. They are Paul Van Praagh, Ross Fairhurst, Brian Fleming and Craig Jonas. Below: The grand howl and a salute for their leader by the Lepperton pack.

Part of the competitions of the Scouts and Cubs was traffic safety. Here, above, traffic officer Bob Wolfe explains a point to the boys from the Tainui pack of Mokau. With real cars to demonstrate with, this part of the competitions was interesting to the boys. Left: Here are the only two Scouts we could find--most of the others were working in groups away in the bush. These boys are Michael and Neil Johns, whose task it was to make a fire and boil a billy. With the amount of wood lying around, fuel was no problem. Below: Here, our cameraman caught the Inglewood pack up a tree. This was part of the competitions for the boys, and they all seemed to be enjoying it.

Who Can Beat This?

It's not exactly the fashion these days to have large families, but there's a family at kanotu of fifteen children. Here they are, and a happier lot you'd find it hard to meet. They are the family of Mr and Mrs Gerald Murphy, Opourapa Road, who told us that the children seldom quarrel, and are a great help to their parents.
