It's a Try!

Just recently, the teachers at the Bell Block school played a game of basketball against the pupils. We don't know who taught the teachers, but they didn't know much about the game as our picture shows, when one of the lady teachers scored a beautiful try, right under the net! It could be a touch of shield fever!

OUR COVER

We are now a little past Spring, but this picture of the Egmont Village school was taken when its daffodil beds were at their best. We think this one of the prettiest sights at this time of the year.

BACK COVER

Another colourful scene near the city is this huge rhododendron in the grounds of the New Plymouth Girls' High School.

"Brigadoon" Will A Be Good Show

If enthusiasm among the cast is any yardstick, then the New Plymouth Operatic Society's production will be another winner. The pictures on this and the following two pages show the cast for this musical and colourful production. The show is produced by Brian Clark and runs at the NP Opera House from November 4th to 9th.

The comedy is provided by Norma Bell, here supported by David Allen and Brian Ayson

Gentlemen of the chorus

Below: Here is the whole of the cast, including chorus of ladies and gentlemen and ladies of the ballet.

Above: Max Baty and Marie Noble-Campbell are two of the leading characters of this show.

Holiday Football

The score didn't matter, and tries were two a penny at the recent charity football game at Rugby park when a Peter Jones XV played holiday football against Ross Brown's squad. The game was a Jaycee promotion that attracted about 3000 people who sat in the sun and thoroughly enjoyed this free-and-easy type of football. With a fairly constant change of players, the patrons were treated to seeing many famous names in football.

Surf Riding Getting Popular

The favourite Australian sport of riding the waves on surf boards is fast becoming popular on Taranaki beaches. We went down to the Mikotahi beach recently and there were a host of boards being ridden in on the waves. Soon a club is to be formed for these surfers when an initial membership of over 40 is anticipated. From what the participants tell us, this is perhaps one of the most thrilling sports of all.

Housewives' Art Show

Aptly named a Goulash of Art, a recent exhibition of art by housewives proved an outstanding success. Under the guidance of chief chef Thelma de Lancy, these housewives have been meeting to study art for many months, and have proved that the housewife is not only a culinary expert, but something of an artist too. This exhibition was one of the best yet held in the Museum, and with donations going to the Intellectually Handicapped Children, the show could be termed an outstanding success. Above, left: "Daughter" by Marguerite Brodie. Above, right: Thelma de Lancy's "A Housewife Paints". Below, left: "The Vicarage" by Olga Archibald. Below, right: Each corner of the exhibition was made very attractive.

Here is a cross-section of pictures on show at the recent Housewife's Art Exhibition. Though we are not expert art critics, it would be fair to say that most of the pieces on display were real clean down-to-earth paintings which caught our eye.

Below: "Sea Drift" by Flora Macdonald.

Right: "Blue Gum" by Frankie Holder was, we thought, particularly well done.

The Marfell Plunket Society recently held a mannequin parade in the Old Folks' Hall, at which the customers saw some of the latest clothes for children, paraded by the children themselves. Not one of the models balked at the large audience, and they displayed the clothes to advantage. Some of the models are pictured on this page. Above, from left: Maxine Olsen and Karen Sarten, cute and coy. Karen Sarten again modelled like a professional. Raewyn Fordyce helps Karen Sarten to parade. Below, from left: Suzanne Day looks every inch a mannequin. Jill Sanger was a trifle shy at start. New Baths Progress

The new baths in Kawaroa Park are now fast taking shape. Much work is being done on the road around the park. Widening and kerbing and channelling is generally tidying up the roads, but the main object is to provide parking for patrons of the baths. Tisch Avenue, above, left, has been widened, and a new car park has been formed between the beach and railway line, but we still feel that parking will be hopelessly inadequate for any large-scale show at the pool. Below: With the pool itself being almost completed, the stage has now been reached when it will not be long before it will be in use - before the end of the summer, we hope!

Soccer Champions

Below: Woodleigh School ninth grade football team who have won the League Cup, being unbeaten in this competition, and the Thompson cup. Quite an achievement when it is considered that the team never won a game in the previous season. The team are, from left, back row: Barry Scott, Wayne Malcolm, Graham Insull, Frank Snowden, Donald Sim, Brent Adams and John Coleman; front row: Mark Adams, Bruce Needham, Peter Adams, Kevin Lock, David Marsh and Kim Wood. The bridesmaids were Marilyn Reardon and Lois Irvin, sister of the bride. Stewart Sandford, Blenheim, was the best man. Future home, Lowgarth.

Chief Inspector Retires

The police of Taranaki recently farewelled the Chief Inspector, Mr Paddy Tanner. Paddy has been in Taranaki for only three years, but in that short time he has endeared himself to everyone with his honesty and fairness. The function in the police social room was attended by members of the force from all parts of Taranaki.

Below: Last official duty for Paddy Tanner was the presentation of a long service medal to Constable D.Mills (Okato).

Fancy Dress At Waitara

The St. Joseph's Convent School, Waitara, recently held their annual fancy dress dance at the Memorial Hall. The children and their parents had gone to a lot of trouble to make the affair as colourful as possible. Above: Tiny tots pose for the camera. Above, right: Girls of standards 1 and 2 make a pretty picture. Below: Standards 3 and 4. Below, right: Boys of standards 1 and 2.

New Red Cross Circle at Waitara School

Funny how some children can rise to occasions! This happened recently at the Waitara Central School, where the children raised £25.16s. for the South East Asia Red Cross appeal. No doubt with plenty of encouragement from the headmaster and teachers, the children organised stalls, concerts, trolley-rides and other ideas to raise this magnificent sum, which is much to their credit. Above: Mrs M. Gyde, North Taranaki Junior Red Cross organiser, is here shown addressing her thanks to the pupils of the school. Below, left: Mrs Gyde with the Mayoress of Waitara, Mrs R. Yardley, and the two senior girls of the recently formed Red Cross Circle, Janine Marshall and Yvonne Sorrenson. NEW TANKER AT PORT TARANAKI

Above: A recent first-time visitor to Port Taranaki was the tanker C.T. Gogstad. This was one of the longest tankers ever to discharge at the port. Perhaps with Kapuni coming into production, fuel oil will be taken OUT of the port instead of being brought into it.

VAMPIRES OVER CITY

Right: This formation of RNZAF Vampires recently flew over the city as part of a huge recruiting campaign for the RNZAF. A further display was witnessed later in the day when a Canberra bomber flew very low over the city.

Best day style, junior or senior, was won by Patricia Newman of Brigetta salon, Eltham.

Janice Sutherland (NP) won the president's trophy for the junior championship

Hairdressing Champs

Competition gets keener each year for the Taranaki hairdressing championships, and this year, entrants came from as far afield as Wellington and Auckland. Thinking up these creations has become a work of art, and the execution of the styles was of a very high standard, which must have given some of the judges a very hard time in picking the winners in the various sections.

Patricia Newman also won the Sinclair memorial trophy, here being presented by Miss Sinclair.

Second prize in the open evening section went to Helen Willoughby (Mt. Roskill)

Helene Curtis trophy was won by Miss Fay Hannaford (Mt. Roskill)

Indian Badminton Team

There has been a feast of visiting badminton teams to Taranaki this season, and some very fine players have been seen in action. This season's final visitors, the Indians, proved that they are a very good set of players. At the Drill Hall, they decisively beat a team billed as the North Island. Training for hours has made these players near to the best in the world.

40,000 LINED STREETS FOR INGLEWOOD'S GREATEST SHOW

What a marvellous effort on the part of Inglewood was the Greatest Show on Earth! A quarter of the population of the town was organised into bands of officials and helpers for this spectacular effort. And for a reward for their efforts, a crowd estimated at 40,000 lined the streets for the 3-mile long parade of magnificent floats. Here, then, was a day that should live on in the minds of the people of Inglewood for the joy it brought to the thousands. Never before, and not for a long time hence, will Inglewood's streets be as crowded as they were for this show. We congratulate all who took part, especially the organisers, who should be asked to organise something for our Festival of the Pines.
