"ANNIE GET YOUR GUN" CAST

Photographed here is the full cast of the forthcoming New Plymouth Operatic Society's production "Annie Get Your Gun". From what we know and have seen, the producer, Cydie Strang is shaping these players into one of the best-ever shows to be performed on the stage of the Opera House. Each actor has a special talent for his part, and most have excellent voices. We venture to predict that this will be a smash hit for New Plymouth.

OUR COVER

We know most of our readers are longing for the balmy days of summer, so to whet the appetite we publish this very attractive picture of June Goodwin at the Kawaroa Pool. When we took June down to the pool, she had to feel if the water was warm enough for a swim, and that's where we caught this delightful picture.

BACK COVER

One of the many hundreds of beautiful orchids to be seen in Fred Parker's gardens at this time of the year. It's worth a visit and open to the public every Sunday afternoon.

AUSSIE BOWLERS' VISIT

Women bowlers from Newcastle, NSW, recently made a short visit to New Plymouth and were the guests of the local centre. A match was played at the Fitzroy green between the visitors and a team of centre executives and club presidents. Below: Welcome to the visitors by Mrs E.P. Aderman, wife of the MP for NP. Bottom: Visitors and hosts gather on the bank at the welcome.

N.Z. Kindergarten Conference In City

Over one hundred and seventy delegates and observers recently visited the city for the NZ Kindergarten annual conference. Four days were spent in the Memorial Hall on a programme of remits. High praise was accorded the New Plymouth branch as hosts to the conference, with special reference to Mr Ed Stone for his part in the organisation, as president of the NP branch. Above: President of the association, Mrs Downer, addresses the gathering at the official opening. Below: Four visitors at the cocktail evening prior to the official opening, from left, Mesdames Eris Boyack (Gisborne), Mary Collier and Beverley Matson, both Wairoa, and Diana Percy (Gisborne).

New Scout Den Opened

After years of struggling to find a home of its own, the Huatoki Scout troop has at last got just that. The building, situated in Drake Street, will serve as the home of the pack for many years to come. Above: Mr Ron Barclay addressed the gathering at the opening ceremony, which was attended by many parents and all the Scouts and Cubs of the troop. Below: Mr Belrich was another of the official speakers. Below, right: Area Commissioner Mr MacAlpine performed the official opening.

Waimea Wind-up Night

The final night of the Waimea Indoor Bowling Club was a popular night for the members, who were treated to a social and supper. This club is probably the youngest club in the division, yet it rates a membership approaching 100 at the end of its third year. Quite an achievement in face of opposition from TV.

Devon School Music Festival

The annual music festival at the Devon Intermediate school was as popular and attractive as ever it was this year. Those responsible must have gone to a lot of trouble in costuming the children for the operetta, as this was one of the best items we have yet seen at the school. The festival was full in its variety, with the school orchestra, recorder groups, choirs, Maori items and the operetta.

New Fire Station Opened

New Plymouth is now the proud owner of one of the finest fire stations in the country. The new station costing £160,000 was recently opened by the president of the United Fire Authorities Association, Mr W.R. Campbell, Christchurch. About 200 interested citizens attended the opening plus representatives of local bodies and Members of Parliament. Left: Scene at the opening ceremony.

FIRE STAFF

At the opening of the new fire station, it amazed us to see that it carried such a large staff of regular and volunteer men, both firemen and fire police. All were at the opening and the city can be justly proud of its firemen and fire police for the smart turn-out for this important occasion.

Above: The fire police attended the opening and are shown here. Though not on parade as their firemen counterparts, they were responsible for seeing everyone seated. A fine body of men, volunteers, too, to whom the city owes much thanks.

Hawera Queen Carnival

Thousands of people from many parts of Taranaki converged on Hawera recently for the start of a campaign organised to raise funds for the town's proposed £60,000 heated Olympic swimming pool. The High street was closed to traffic for this opening carnival which provided fifteen floats and included music from the town's Pipe and Brass bands. The evening began with a wheelbarrow race which was nothing short of hilarious, floats and displays came next, and then the fund-raising began in earnest, and it can be stated that this project got off to a very good start. The three Miss Pool contestants are shown above, from left: Beverley Powell, Shirley Macdonald and Jennifer Lewis. Below: Children by the thousand lined the procession route and were particularly well-behaved.

YOU'RE INVITED

If your fiance has popped the question, and you've accepted, you're invited to let us in on the secret, so that we can get your photograph for our engagement pages. It's a proud moment for you, and we're sure your friends would like to know too. We'll take your photograph entirely free.

A local store was recently flooded with customers who went to see Miss NZ 1965, Gay Phelps, modelling some of the latest creations for women. Other local mannequins also paraded the latest, while there were also hairdressing demonstrations. Gay is a very charming personality who has endeared herself to many during this short stay in the city.

"Annie Get Your Gun"
Should Create Records

From what we know and have seen so far of this year's NP Operatic Society's production, we would stake our reputation on the fact that "Annie Get Your Gun" will create records as the best show yet with the biggest box office receipts. That is our opinion, so if you can't book, don't say we didn't warn you. Get in early for your seats, there's bound to be a heavy demand. Here we see two of the nicest leads yet to grace the stage at the Opera House. Yvonne Phillips plays "Annie", and Roland Everard is Frank Butler in the show. It starts on November 3rd, but we warn you to book early. (Photo by VOGUE STUDIOS).

Tennis Coaching

What an encouraging response to the recent Tennis Week, organised by the NZLTA. Here in New Plymouth, the Taranaki Association offered free coaching for the youngsters, and a very large number of kids turned up to take advantage of this offer. In fact, it was estimated that 400 were present. It was a most encouraging start to the season, but the local clubs will have to follow up if any good is to come from this drive. Above: Part of the 400, under the eye of Victor N.Crane, president of the Taranaki LTA. Below: Coach Peter Powell helped with the older pupils.

8000 Attend Motor Show

What a wonderful idea to organise a motor show for New Plymouth. This first-ever show was such a success, with 8000 people going through the turnstiles in two days, that next year will be, we feel sure, a miniature Earl's Court show. It must have been very encouraging to the organisers to see such interest, plus the fact that most of the exhibitors did good business.

Citreon cars received much attention

Star of the show was this V8 Daimler

THIS SHOW MUST BECOME AN ANNUAL EVENT

With the popularity rating shown for the first-ever motor show in New Plymouth, it is certain that this will become an annual event, in fact MUST become an annual event. It is surprising to know that over 8000 people paid to see the show, which was a masterpiece of presentation by those exhibiting.

Above, left: The Vauxhall Viva was displayed so that one could look underneath as well as inside. A very good idea.

Below, left: The Austin Princess with the Rolls Royce engine. This was the car that interested us, particularly the engine. The interior was luxurious and the price well over £2500.

Lepperton Concert

There were full houses on both nights for the concert organised by the Karawaka Young Farmers' Club at Lepperton. And the programme.. well the entertainment was pretty good. With many of the acts being linked with people and happenings in the district, laughter was the result. Top marks to these hard-working young farmers for a fine effort!

City Venue For Conferences

Two very important conferences recently took place in New Plymouth. The first was the Kindergarten conference, which brought into the city nearly 200 visitors. The delegates are shown in the photograph, above, left, taken on the steps of the Library. The other conference, that of the Happiness Clubs, attracted over 500 women visitors to the city. Their conference group was taken at Rugby Park, shown left.
