Proud Mother

With every reason to be proud, this ewe, on the property of Mr J.A.Potroz, Kaimata, recently gave birth to quintuplets. Unfortunately one of the five was weak and died, leaving mother four young scamps to look after. She was on the alert when this photograph was taken, but with four very lively youngsters to look after, we think she will be a busy ewe for a while.

OUR COVER

Pretty girl?.....most certainly. Pretty dog? Well, if you can call a dog pretty, this is it. June Bradbury (Hawera) was a model at the recent Taranaki hairdressing champs and we have a sneaking feeling that some hairdresser had been practising on Fifi the dog. His coat was a lavender shade, with brown-tipped ears, and his coat had one of the neatest bubble perms you have ever seen. Still, they make a cute picture!

BACK COVER

Here are the Taranaki and visiting Indian hockey teams, taken at Pukekura Park just before they played a game in which the Indians ran out winner by 9-1.

Presentations At The Hairdressers' Ball

Another very colourful ball took place recently, when the local hairdressers culminated their championships with a presentation of trophies on a ball at the Waitara War Memorial Hall.

The VIP's (NP)

Johnnie Cooper Show

The first of the great semi-finals of the Johnnie Cooper talent show recently took place at the Opera House, NP. These shows are attracting full houses, and are a delight to the young ones, particularly to "pop" lovers. Most of the talent is of the Mod variety, some artists even emanating the Beatles. Though we personally don't dig this modern beat, it is good to see the young ones on stage doing their turns with the aid of the essential "mike".

N.P. Triplets First Birthday

New Plymouth's only triplets, Steven, Wayne and Alec Paton, have just celebrated their first birthday. We had the privilege of photographing them on this occasion, and must admit that they are a bonny trio, and a credit to their parents, Mr and Mrs G.A.Paton, Glenpark Avenue, NP. There is little doubt that they are a handful for their parents, at one year old. Like any other child, nothing much misses their attention, and they are a full-time job, but they do look lovely, don't they with their first birthday cake? The Paton triplets were the first triplets born at the West-town hospital, and are the only ones to survive in New Plymouth for the past fifty years.

Mutual Attraction

There's hardly a child who isn't attracted to the lambs, now to be seen gambolling in the paddocks, even though they might be black. And no matter what the colour, when you've got the chance to make a pet of a lamb, that chance is snapped up, as it was with Patricia Wright of Okoki, when she got the opportunity to show her affection for this sweet young animal. We think this a delightful picture of mutual attraction.

No Trouble Beating Wairarapa

This was a game that was a delight to watch, with the Taranaki back line all out to show the crowd that it was a working and scoring combination. Wairarapa didn't let the home team have things their own way, but the power of the Amber and Blacks was far too polished in its movements to be over-run by the visitors. The 32-8 victory was a pleasant feast of scoring that could have easily been doubled.

Taranaki Hairdressing Champs Attracted Crowds

Held for the first time in the NP War Memorial Hall, and with entrants from all parts of the North Island, the Taranaki hairdressing championships attracted large crowds of spectators to the competitions. With four leading NZ judges present, competition was keen, but above all, the quality of the work on view was as good as anywhere else in the country.

Susan Worthington (Hawera) works on her model Margaret Petrie.

Odd Shots

Above: There's been a bit of trickery somewhere...Ferdie's got himself a son, and at the Waikato shield game his son had the effrontery to display a board saying "I want my Mummy", while most of the 20,000 people at Rugby Park were saying "Toxhell with Mooloo!"

Below: On our way to Rugby Park for the Waikato game, we espied this scene in a fan's front garden. It would appear that the intention was good, but with Mum inside doing the dishes, the man of the house took off for the park...who can blame him? It was blatant case of "drop it and 'op it!"

Bottom: Traffic along the whole length of Coronation Avenue was held up for some time when this rather large load came along. It was being removed from Courtney Street and was making its way to the eastern end of the city.

Touring Indian Hockey Team Gave Fine Display

Nowhere in the world could a better display of hockey have been seen than that given by the touring Indian team at Pukekura Park recently. Their stick work and positional play was a treat to watch, and should prove most beneficial to hockey fans in the province. Though beaten 9-1, the Taranaki team never gave up trying, and it was a credit to the defence that more goals were not scored. This young provincial team is one of the best that we have had for a long time, and with more play together will become a formidable combination. Above: R.Osman has a tussle with an attacking Indian, with B.Loader and A.Phillips waiting developments. Right: Captains toss the coin, watched by umpires B.Neal and N.McIntyre. Below: Hard-working goalie M.Burkett clears another raid on his goal.

Snowstorm Over Taranaki

Egmont had its largest fall of snow for many years just recently. So thick was the layer, that cars could not reach the North Egmont Hotel. We went aloft to pix this record fall and were amazed at the amount. There was still tons of snow in the air in the evening, when we turned on our television set! We know, of course, that there's no connection, but it does seem a pity that we in Taranaki pay just as much in licence fees for our television viewing as do the people of the four main centres, yet the government have not, and probably will not, do anything about it, not at least while we have a translator society that is dabbling in providing a better signal. It is NOT the responsibility of the TV viewers to provide their own translator, but the government's. They take the licence fees, AND they made a £600,000 profit last year, so why, not give all New Zealanders the same reception, the same as is enjoyed by the four main centres? Above, left: This is the general run of viewing that we have had over the whole of the winter. Shocking, isn't it? Above, right: The translator on the North Egmont site. Below: Is this where all the snow is coming from?

Teenagers' Driving Competition

Fourteen teenage drivers from all parts of the province recently competed in the Jaycee's teenage driving competition. If all teenagers on the roads were as good drivers as these fourteen were, then a lot of accidents would be avoided. A point which was in their favour was that the cars that they drove were all in tip-top condition, being well maintained all round. In fact, there wasn't a bomb among them, and the "expert" Devon Street young drivers were conspicuous by their absence. In particular, we noticed that the young girls who took part in the competition were every bit as good as the boys, and showed plenty of confidence in performing their tests. Above: In and out of a straight line of poles, both forward and backward was a stiff test. Above, right: T.Hogan was successful in driving down the row of tennis balls, and he was just as good in reverse, below, right. Below, left: C.S.Crow is given instructions by an official before proceeding on to the next test.

Parking is always a fairly difficult manoeuvre, and the young drivers did well to get into the rather confined parking space set out. Accurate parking, with measurements taken all round, were point winners.

Entertainment For Old Folk And Blind Children

A very pleasant afternoon's entertainment was recently held in the New Plymouth Old Folks' hall, when children of the Spotswood College gave several items to the old folk and their invited guests who were blind children from all parts of the province. The children were most appreciative of the talent of the Spotswood pupils, whose rendering of operatic songs makes them one of the best choir combinations in the district. Above: This is the Spotswood choir in action in the old folks' rooms. Below: The blind children, who were under the supervision of Mr Lou Louisson, shown with the children in this picture.

Concert At Opunake Flower Show

The annual Methodist Flower Show at Opunake not only produces some very fine exhibits at the show, but also provides good entertainment at the concluding concert. This year, with entries at a record level, the show was a huge success, and the concert preceding the presentation of prizes was a popular one with entertainment for all. Above, left: Sister Lyn with her youth choir provided good entertainment. Above, right: Diane Robinson provided three tap dance numbers to the delight of the audience. N.P.O.B. Midgets Wind-Up Dinner

After a very successful season, the midgets of the NP Old Boys Club were recently treated to a dinner and film evening as the culmination of their season. Our photographer wandered in just as the boys were filling up with a sumptuous supper, but when someone mentioned the Ranfurly shield there was an almighty cheer from between mouthfuls. By the enthusiasm shown, a bright future is assured for the Old Boys Club.

Selwyn Toogood's Last Show In N.P.

Within a matter of weeks, the touring shows so popular with everyone, the "Bag" and other quiz shows, compered by the biggest man in the business, Selwyn Toogood, are to come to an end. New Plymouth had its last visit from Selwyn recently, when the Opera House was filled for this popular programme. Funny thing though, New Plymouthites never seem to get the big prizes offered for the quiz. Maybe we are not quite as wide awake as other towns! Or perhaps we're too rain-soaked to think properly. The five contestants who went for the "Thing", shown above, right, got the answer on the last clue. Above, left: Selwyn himself at the microphone. Below, left: Little Sandra Drake won the biggest prize of the night: a washing machine. Below, centre: Ngaire Young was a bundle of nerves in front of the mike. Brian Carter was the best man and Ross Davies, brother of the groom, Te Awamutu, was the groomsman. Flower-girl was Deidre Atkinson, Stratford, and the page boy was Lance Locker, Stratford. Future home, Te Awamutu.

Schoolgirls' Golf Tourney At Stratford

A popular event in the August school holidays is the annual girls' golf tournament, held each year at the Stratford Golf Course. Played in fine weather, the players produced some remarkably good rounds. Even the youngest competitor, a 10-year-old, went round in a score that would not have disgraced a fair player.

Lee Mawhinney, Auckland, was the best man and the groomsmen was Joseph Heistand, brother of the bride Awatuna. Future home, Auckland.

Mud Larks With Manawatu

While most of the country enjoys sunshine, poor Taranaki is still getting more than its share of rain, and it is just a pity that it had to be wet for the shield game against Manawatu. No sort of criticism can be levelled at any player, as the conditions were not conducive to good football. Despite this, Taranaki showed that they have a pack of forwards that are not upset too much by the conditions, as the home side ran out winners 9-6. Above, left: Alan Smith jumped well in the line-outs. Above, right: Hurley, Brown and Wolfe in a forward foot rush. Below: Poor old Kevin Briscoe had a hard day in the mud with a ball that was too greasy to hold.

Benedicts Ball Debutantes

The first ever benedict debutante ball was an outstanding success in the NPGHS Assembly Hall. Many hours had gone into the decor, and the local members can be proud of themselves for doing such a fine job. This was the most colourful of all the balls that we have attended, and will no doubt be the forerunner of many more. In our large photograph the official party are, from left, Mr and Mrs O. Stockman (Westown), Mr and Mrs L. Russell Mayor and Mayoress, Mr and Mrs A.G. Honnor, Mr and Mrs H. King (Fitzroy) and Mr and Mrs R. Thurlow (Brixton). The debs from left are, Lynne Priest, Jan Cooper, Sue Hill, Pamela Tulloch, Gaille Harrison, Margaret Parsons, Maureen Hayward and Claire Thurlow. The photograph at top left shows the crowd of dancers at this very popular ball. (VOGUE STUDIOS).
