

Some stupid people even do this!

Fires Happen Quickly!

Not only do fires start quickly, but often in unseen places. Overloading of electrical points can cause fires behind walls or in the roof that are not easy to detect. The picture above is a confiscated heater, which is either home-made or was one of the very first made. It too, can cause fires.

Exhibits in a black museum. All could cause serious fires in the home.

This is just inviting trouble!

Sabrina in the Country

Below: We picked up this delightful picture in the country recently when we went to a women's evening. The actors shall be nameless, but the picture is published to show dad what mum gets up to at a women's party. Cute, ain't it?

Wedding Bells

Above: FOREMAN-SOLE. At the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Inglewood, Deirdre, second daughter of Mr and Mrs R.D.Sole, Egmont Village, to Terence, younger son of Mr and Mrs R.G.Foreman, NP. The bridesmaids were Shirley Stockman, NP., and Leonie and Christine Sole, sisters of the bride, Egmont Village. Clem Hall, NP., was best man, and Graeme Rowe, Waitara, was groomsman. The future home of the couple will be NP.

Engaged

Below, left: MCKERROW-CLARKE. Valerie Anne, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs J.Clarke, Hawera, to Alexander Ronald (Peter), eldest son of Mr and Mrs A.McKerrow, Uremi.

Below, right: HARPER-FURNESS. Josephine Kay, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs H.G.Furness, Rahotu, to Peter Charles, only son of Mrs I.Harper, Petone, Wellington.

THE SHIELD'S STILL HERE—But Only Just!

We've still got the shield, but only by about five seconds. Trailing for the whole of the game against Wanganui, the home team scored a winning try about 10 seconds from the final whistle. Not that we thought that the shield should have changed hands so quickly, but the team was not a patch on the team that so decisively licked Wellington. The general comment after the game was "Ah well, that's football" and how right that is! Though Taranaki did most of the attacking, it was the boot of Wanganui's Pierce which did the damage, right up to those dying seconds.

Goal-kicker C. Pierce is brought down by Dennis Parker

A. Smith comes through with the ball and is looking for a team mate to pass it to.

John Major locks the arms of a Wanganui forward

Murray Wills catches Wanganui half McPhee, is mid air

Second try to Taranaki scored by John McCullough

The attacking force of Taranaki is something to be reckoned with. They have scored seven tries in their two shield games, and have never had their own lines crossed. Four tries against Wanganui's nil proves beyond doubt that they were the better team, with far more cohesion in the forwards. Yet the game was in doubt until the final 10 seconds. Here was a game that will be the topic of conversation in Wanganui for many years.

Wanganui's McPhee gets the ball away a bit too soon for Murray Wills

Ralph Carroll's head injury caused a bit of trouble after a further knock

Wanganui's forwards tried desperately to keep the ball tight

Wild Scenes At Rugby Park

Scenes at Rugby Park were very similar to those at Athletic Park the previous week when the local boys lifted the shield. Crowds invaded the pitch as the final whistle was blown, to congratulate the boys on their performance, and Kerry Hurley was soon located and shouldered off the ground, below, left. He was the man who scored those vital last three points and probably earned the TRU many thousands of pounds. Below, right: Hands go up in unison as the winning points are scored.

Egmont Competition Winners

Out of hundreds of replies we had from children in our Egmont competition, only two had the correct answer. Both these will receive their "Photo News" free for the next 12 months. They are Rosalind Burkitt, 3 Rogan St., New Plymouth, and Urban Broadmore, Dudley Road, No 6 R.D., Inglewood. The correct answer was that the photo was taken a mile down from the gates on the Egmont Road, with the aid of a telephoto lens.

Celebrations

Above, left: Photographed with their grandchildren are Mr and Mrs S.H.A. Williamson, who recently celebrated their Golden Wedding.

Above: Lorraine, daughter of Mr and Mrs R.W. Bennett, Hawera, seen here cutting her 21st birthday cake.

Left: John MacDonell, photographed with his mother, Mrs F. MacDonell, NP, at his coming of age party.

Below: Margaret, second daughter of Mr and Mrs G. Lucinsky, who recently celebrated her 21st birthday.

DURHAM ROAD C.W.I. BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Durham Road branch of the CWI recently celebrated their 21st birthday with a party evening for members and visitors. It was an enjoyable evening for both members and visitors alike.

Above: The magnificent cake, made by one of the members especially for this occasion.

Above, right: The traditional key was presented to the president, Mrs Margaret Goble, by the CWI Provincial president, Mrs L. Russell.

Right: Three foundation members had the honour of lighting the 21 candles. They were Mesdames Melvena Davidson, Muriel Dodunski and Win Dobson.

Below: The branch choir sang a bracket of several songs.

Wedding Bells

Above: ELMES-SMITH. At St Mary's Anglican Church, NP., Lorna, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs J.R. Smith, Queensland, Australia, to John, only son of Mr and Mrs J.G. Elmes, Auckland. Jeanette Jackson, Queensland, was the bridesmaid, and Dr Peter Perry, Te Aroa, was best man. The flower-girls were Barbara Smith, NP., and Julie Ransford, Stratford. Future home will be Auckland.

Below: NEWTON-FLORENCE. At the Whiteley Church, NP., Faye, second daughter of Mr and Mrs E.J. Florence, NP., to Peter, twin son of Mr and Mrs R.M. Newton, NP. The bridesmaids were Beverley Florence, sister of the bride, NP., and Christine Lee, Urenui. Bruce Dunn, NP., was best man, and Paul Newton, twin brother of the groom, NP., was groomsman. Future home, Oakura.

CLUBS AND ORGANISATIONS—
THE EDITOR WILL BE PLEASED TO HEAR FROM YOU AT ANY TIME — IF THERE IS SOMETHING "COMING UP" CONTACT US!

WAITUI W.D.F.F. 10th BIRTHDAY

The Waitui Hall was recently the scene of the 10th birthday celebrations of the Waitui W.D.F.F. Visitors from other branches attended this very pleasant afternoon's entertainment.

Above, left: The beautiful cake made specially for the occasion by a member.

Left: Waitui president Mrs Margaret Nickel watches while Provincial President Mrs E.Clelland lights the candles.

Above: Past presidents Mesdames H.Hunt and J. MacIntyre cut the celebration cake together.

Below: Exhibition of Arts and Crafts by members of the branch were a popular attraction for the visitors.

Wedding Bells

Above: GRAY-HARRIS. At St. Patrick's Church, Patea, Kathleen, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs E.E.Harris, Patea, to Kevin Gray, youngest son of Mrs M.Weir, Patea. The attendants were Mary Steffert and Kathleen Dwyer, Hugh Bourn and Bruce Douglas, all of Patea. The flower girls were Karen Back, Wanganui, and Carol Williams, Patea, nieces of the bride. Future home, Patea.

ENGAGED

Below, left: YOUNG-SEARS. Noeleen Ivy, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs P.M.Sears, NP, to Roger Lamont, second son of Mr and Mrs L.A.L.Young, Te Kuiti.

BALLET WINNERS

Below, right: Winner of the Rodgers championship shield at the recent Hawera competitions for ballet group was the Beryl Quay-Glenys Horsfall school of dancing, represented by Gaye Topping, Elvie Harrison, Christine Bone, Verena O'Brien and Beverley Murray.

PIGLETS — BY THE DOZEN

Panic reigned on the Ludeman farm in Inglewood recently when one of Mr C.A.Ludeman's sows gave birth to nineteen piglets. Eighteen survived, and mother pig had a fine time feeding all these for the first two days, until Mr Ludeman enlisted the help of another sow. At meal times it was a case of first come, first served. Mother is shown, above, with her litter. Below: Mr Ludeman teaches one of the piglets to feed from a cup.

TARANAKI'S OTHER SHIELD

A second shield has been delivered to New Plymouth. Here holding the log of wood is Dick Naylor. This one was sent down from the Auckland office of McAlpine Refrigeration, where it was made, to be held here as long as we hold the original version.

Wedding Bells

Above: ATTRILL-ISBISTER. At St Stephen's Methodist Church, Stratford, Betty Ann, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs J.Isbister, Stratford, to Arthur Robert, second son of Mr and Mrs J.Attrill, Rotorua. Pauline Isbister, Dunedin, sister of the bride, and Barbara Poppe, Marton, were the bridesmaids. Colin and Bruce Attrill, brothers of the groom, were best man and groomsman. Future home, Normanby.

Below: VICKERS-CHARLES. At St Peter's Church, Wanganui, Dorene, daughter of Mr and Mrs A.H. Charles, Wanganui, to Ian Gace, son of Mr and Mrs N.G.Vickers, Waitara. Elaine Saywell, Marton, was matron of honour, and Jane Phillips, New Plymouth, the bridesmaid. Denis Denton, Wellington, was best man and the groomsman was John Charles, brother of the bride, Wanganui. Future home of the couple will be Palmerston North.

Caltex Gave The Kids A Treat

Someone had to benefit from this advertising campaign of Caltex Oil. It was the kids this time who reaped all the plums. First there were the plastic helmets, and once they had one of those, then there was a free picture show for them at the State, and did they pack 'em in! You couldn't have put a cigarette paper between them. Still, they had a lot of fun out of it.

Above: To start the campaign, Caltex rep. Peter Burke got the Scouts together on a parade up Devon Street in a vintage car. Here you see Peter with Phil Phelan and the youngsters who did the parade.

Below: And this is what the foyer of the State looked like for the free cinema show.

Sister Maloney helped to distribute the lollies

The less fortunate children in hospital were not forgotten by the Caltex representatives. They were treated to lollies and a free plastic helmet each, when a visit was made to the hospital recently. And it did our old hearts good to see the smiles of thanks as each child received the gifts.

Phil Barnes fits a helmet on Ian Clarke

Phil Barnes and Phil Phelan with David Toa

Peter Reid looks every bit a racing driver

Sister Maloney unpacks the lollies

Roving Camera

Right: Four generations photographed on the occasion of the christening of Baby Diane Coombe. From left, grandmother, Mrs J.T. Stachurski, Waitui, Mother, Mrs R. Coombe, Kaimata, and baby Diane with great-grandmother, Mrs A. Salisbury, Fitzroy.

Below: Miss M. Spellman, New Plymouth, who was recently presented at a ball in Palmerston North.

Below, right: Kathleen Uhlenberg and Pauline Cronin, both of Eltham, who have just returned home after an extensive tour of Australia, Japan, Hong Kong and China.

Howard Sinclair shows his model, Miss No Body, to an interested audience

Hairdressing Demonstration

At the recent monthly meeting of the Post Office Women's League, those present were treated to a first-class demonstration on hairdressing by Howard Sinclair and members of his staff. Colouring and styles were the popular subjects, and we are picking that one or two Post Office wives will be changing their hair style or colour in the near future.

Hairdresser Leoni Fanthorpe puts the finishing touches to her model, Helen Cooper

The Post Office ladies admire the finished style of Cleopatra on model Helen Cooper

Fashion Parade at Flower Show

A new feature of the NP Horticultural Society's Spring Flower Show was a fashion parade. This parade proved the most popular feature of the show, and rated most patrons during the times that the parades were on. These parades were staged by Christabel Gowns, and proved popular for women with larger figures.

Above: Practically every seat was taken for these parades, and not all the seats were filled with women. Some of the husbands got dragged along to admire the very smart clothes on display.

Right: Floral arrangements at the show were of a very high standard, and were the admiration of most of the visitors.

Below: Climax of the fashion show was the special showing of bridal outfits, and fashions for the bride's mother. Here are the mannequins in the grand finale of this very enjoyable show.

IF IT LOOKS LIKE A NEWS-PICTURE..
RING "PHOTO NEWS", TELEPHONE 6101

We stopped at the Compost stand at the recent Spring Flower Show, and were rather intrigued with the results obtained with this compost growing. Some of the vegetables on display were of a very large variety, and yet had not lost their flavour. Above: Here is Jessie Stuart with a lettuce grown on the compost system, and it was, as you can see, a whopper. Below: The stand of the Society claimed plenty of attention.

Above, right: The Westown CWI's winning court at the show.

South Africa Trounces Taranaki

Once again, the visit of an overseas touring badminton team has proved that this province is just not strong enough in this sport. The South African team recently visited New Plymouth and gave the local team a lesson in the sport. There is one thing about these visits, it does give the public a chance to see some of the top overseas players in action.

Above: Visiting South Africans knitted during their team mates' matches.

Above, right: They even wrote home between games.

Right: Taranaki's Margaret Moorhead congratulates Kay Stavridis on her victory.

Below: The Taranaki team, from left: Brian See, Ian Clegg, Owen Clegg, Judy Clegg, Averil Bray, Margaret Moorhead and Alan Telfer.

Right: DEANE-MATHEWS. At St. Mary's Church, NP, Robyn Colleen, the only daughter of Mr and Mrs C.W.Mathews, NP, to Robert Henry, eldest son of Mr and Mrs W.Deane, NP. Matron of honour was Mrs I. Clements, and the best man was Mr I. Clements, Uruti. Ann Clyma was the flower-girl. Future home will be Glen Oroua.

Below: BARRETT-JONES. At St. Mary's Church, NP, Irene Ada, twin daughter of Mr and Mrs E.P.Jones, NP, to Henry Fraser, second son of Mr and Mrs H.C.Barrett, NP. The bridesmaids were Audrey Jones, twin sister of the bride, Lorraine Jones, sister of the bride, and Edith Marshall-Smith. Best man was James Barrett, brother of the groom, and the groomsmen were Ron Scott and Robert Brinkley. Future home of the couple will be Rahotu.

Married

Lions Sort Old Specs

The recent drive of the Lions Club for old spectacles has finished, but not for the Lions. They had to sort them out, remove certain parts, and pack them for delivery elsewhere. The club members were hard at work when our photographer called to get these pictures.

Above: George Beatty hard at work removing the gold from some of the older type spectacles.

Above, right: John Pinhey packs the old specs in their respective cartons.

Below: Messrs Burton-Wood and Deare pose for our camera wearing some of the really old-type specs.

Below, right: Ken Tompkins and Burton-Wood are shown wrapping the specs before packing.

The troops first Cub cut the cake, with the assistance of Cubmasters Eunice Ramsay, Wendy Naylor and Pat Thorne

There was plenty to eat for the boys

But what a grab they made for the extras!

Eunice Ramsay took the birthday cake round

Cubs' First Birthday

Quite a difference from one year ago when the Mikotahi Cub pack was formed, and three cubmasters turned up for the opening, and only ONE cub. Now, after one year's activities, the pack is at full strength, and bursting at the seams. They recently celebrated their first birthday with a party in their den on Ngamotu Beach.

District Commissioner of Cubs, Mrs A.Coleman, presented warrants to Pat Thorne and Mrs G. Hutchinson

QUEEN'S GUIDE BADGE PRESENTED

Yet another Queen's Guide badge has been won in the city. This time it was won by Alison Sole, a member of the Manauai Guide Company, and she was presented with this hard-earned badge at a special ceremony by the Provincial Commissioner, Mrs E. R. Kitchingman. Not only did Alison receive this rare award, but she was also presented with other gifts from her company to mark the occasion.

Right! Alison Sole receives her Queen's badge from the Provincial Commissioner, Mrs E.R.Kitchingman.

Below! After the presentations were over, Alison was surrounded by admirers in her own company. Well done, Alison.

Pot Pourri

TRAFFIC INSTRUCTORS' COURSE

Above! Transport Department senior road traffic instructors recently gathered in Wellington for a course. Here, shown in our photograph, senior instructors see the various devices used in their training and testing. From left, they are W.Horsfall (Wellington-Manawatu), W.Letham (Wellington), G.Horniblow (Hawkes Bay) and George Scholes (Taranaki).

HUNDREDS PAY LAST RESPECTS AT WAITARA FUNERAL

More than 400 people, both Maori and pakeha, gathered at Manukorihi Pa, Waitara, recently for the funeral of Mrs Hinemarie Tirikatene Bailey, eldest daughter of Sir Eruera and Lady Tirikatene. The Ratana Church service was conducted on the marae.

Y.W.C.A. "Stay Home" Camp

About 100 girls recently attended the YWCA stay home camp, run during the school holidays. The girls were taught all sorts of hobbies and arts, during their week's course.

Above: Toy-makers are Mandy and Andrew McConnell, Raewyn Fordyce, instructor Jill Sattler, Diane McAllum and Grazia Van Hattum.

Below, left: Making decorative plant ornaments are Jocelyn Horn, Susanne Douglas, Gael Maskery and Yvonne Maskery.

Below, right: Cooking was the chosen subject of Janet Gardner and Jennifer Agrus.

The YWCA stay home camp, held during the school holidays proved most popular with the local girls. Above, left: Here, a class is learning to make flowers from shells. Above, right: Those working with shells are, from left, Sally Sown, Teresa Uren, Christine Allen, and, standing at the back, are Catherine Sandford, Heather Tingey and Jennifer Angus. Below: Showing finished products from the cooking class are, from left, Lyndsay Stone, Janet Petrove, Sharyl West, Truby Boyce and Fiona Cooper.

Inglewood R.S.A. Ladies Entertain Old Folk

Last month the women's section of the Inglewood RSA entertained old folk of the district. This, we thought, was a wonderful idea, especially as the women had gone to so much trouble to rig themselves up in costumes of the world. We feel sure that this spirit is really appreciated by the old folk of Inglewood. Congratulations, ladies, you did a fine job. In our picture above, we see the host of entertainers and below, some of the old folk enjoying a very scrumptuous afternoon tea, also provided by the ladies.

Ardent Supporters!

When the shield came back home to New Plymouth, about ten thousand people were there to see it arrive. Unfortunately, it rained, but not even this could dampen the spirits of the townsfolk. Here we see the children in the front row, soaked to the skin, but still determined to see Ross Brown and his team on their arrival in the city.

