MAIN STREET INGLEWOOD, N.Z.

INGLEWOOD THEN AND NOW

There's been a marked improvement in the main street at Inglewood since the photograph above was taken. Some of the old verandahs have disappeared, the railway side of the road has been cleared the road is now sealed, and there's adequate street lighting. In the space of the years that span the taking of these two photographs, much has been done that is not obvious, for Inglewood can boast one of the cleanest towns in the province...at least, that's our opinion.

Y.W.C.A. Stay-At-Home Camp

Each year, during the August school holidays, the YWCA hold a stay-at-home camp for girls. This year, over 80 girls attended a most successful camp which catered for many of their interests and ended with a trip to the mountain. Above, left: Mrs Vivienne Goodwin shows a group of interested girls how to make cloth novelties. Above, right: A helping hand is given to Celia Blackburn, by Vivienne Wallis, as she does gymnastics on the beam. Below, left: Showing each other what they have made are Lynette Comba, Rowan Williams, and Christine McGiven. Below, right: Lorraine Gilbert and Caroline Hendy really enjoyed themselves on the trampoline.

FIVE YEARS AGO

It's hard to believe that only five years span the taking of these two photographs. The picture above, was taken just that time ago, and shows the old Red Cross building in Devon Street, almost opposite the old Post Office. It certainly was an eyesore--in fact, a disgrace for our main street, but a fine new structure has taken its place, below, and is a credit to the society. Without photographs, it is hard to remember what the old looked like.

Bernina Tour Won By N.P.Rider

The recent Bernina two-day tour of the province was won by New Plymouth's Grant Knuckey. He had high placings in most of the stages, which earned him overall first place. For the race, the weather was not quite as good as it might have been, with plenty of moisture on all of the stages, and a fair amount of wind which had to be fought against too. All in all, not a very comfortable race for the competitors--in fact, there were only five finishers after the third stage. Above: These are the first five men home at the end of the third stage which finished at Coronation Avenue. First was Ian Haw, NP, followed by Grant Knuckey, NP, A.McMeekin, Dunedin, Grant Adlam, NP, and Jeff Wells, Waitara. Left: Albie Hayward, NP, struggles across the line to take third place at the end of the race. Below: Finish of the sixth stage saw A.McMeekin over the line first, followed by Grant Knuckey.

Spring Flower Show

We can't say that we've had much in the way of spring weather lately, but it could not have been too bad, because the annual Spring Flower Show in the Agricultural Hall was just as colourful and crowded as in other years. The thing that amazed us most was the amount of preparation that went into the arranging of the various displays. Until one sees just what is involved, it is hard to realise just what it takes to make a successful display. We took these photographs as the exhibitors were busy preparing their various flowers for show. Above: Two of the stewards, Mesdames E.R. Jackson and E.M. Rowe, view a display. Right: Miss Mavis Verry was busy with her blooms for exhibition. Below, left: Ruth Gray and Dorothy Anderson pick the flowers for a display. Below, right: Mr W. Bond, a long time exhibitor arranges his entries.

Above: Mrs Julia Clark sets out her exhibition blooms to their best advantage. Below: Lyn Bublitz has a prickly problem as he views two very fine cacti. Above, right: Jocelyn and Nancy Gyde look at the other exhibits after displaying their own. Right: Mrs E. Robertson was responsible for some very fine displays. Below, right: Mrs H. Stimpson's task was not an easy one with a display of a variety of flowers.

PRIMARY SOCCER TROPHY WINNERS

It was a crowded day at Lynmouth Park recently for the annual end-of-season 7-a-side soccer tournament and trophy presentation. Above: Here are just a few of the boys who take part in this competition each week. Right: Junior council chairman Keith Roberts presented the trophies. Here, Howard Jones and John Guppy receive the 7th grade challenge shield. Below: Kelvin Bishop, captain of 8th grade champs Marfell, receives the cup. Below, right: Leslie Hickling, captain of Fitzroy, gets the 9th grade challenge cup.

On this page are the respective captains of their soccer teams who had the honour of collecting trophies at the closing of the Primary soccer season. Above, centre: Sean McElhannan, captain of Vogeltown, winners of the 7-a-side. ## Primary School Soccer Championships

Above, left: The end of the soccer season produced champions in all of the three grades, plus some very close competition during the season. Here is the Fitzroy 9th grade team which won the challenge trophy for their grade. Below, left: This team, the Marfell school eleven, won the 8th grade championship without having a loss recorded against them—quite an achievement. Above: Central 9th grade champions with their chaperon-cum-trainer. Below: Not often a cup goes outside the city, but these boys from the Celtic team in Stratford won the seven-a-side tournament.

BRIDGE ST, ELTHAM, N.Z.

ELTHAM—THEN AND NOW

The picture above, taken shortly after the turn of the century and showing Bridge Street, Eltham, shows a considerable difference from the photograph taken recently. Though not quite the same part of the street, it would seem that the inhabitants of those days preferred to walk in the roadway, quite a difference from today, just a short sixty years after. Who would dare walk in the roadway, even in Eltham, today? By the size of the Coronation Hotel in the old photo, it seems that the hotel trade was a flourishing one in the district in those days.

WAITARA C.W.I. BIRTHDAY

About a hundred women from Waitara and other branches of the CWI gathered recently to celebrate the 34th birthday of the Waitara branch at the Anglican Hall. The local ladies provided a fine array of talent for items that were distinctly novel and enjoyed by the large audience. Above: Four foundation members helped in the cake cutting, from left, Mesdames Margaret Dowling, Florence Turner, Violet Armstrong, Elizabeth Limmer and the president, Evelyn Telfar. Left and below: The local ladies performed an item entitled "Between Two Trees". Bottom: The celebration of grandma's birthday was a musical affair....most enjoyable.

LOOKING BACK FIVE YEARS

Remember the disastrous fire down among the oil tanks at the port? It was just five years ago, and this photograph should help to refresh your memory. That was a day which was fraught with excitement as the firemen battled successfully to save what could easily have been a catastrophe.

TARANAKI'S FOUR ALL BLACKS

It's a proud day for Taranaki rugby, with four of our players chosen to travel with the All Blacks on their forthcoming tour. And they've all earned their place the hard way, by being good players and keeping themselves in the peak of condition. Here are pictures of the four at their daily chores. Above, left: John Major with son Ian isn't new to tours with the All Blacks. Above, right: Murray Wills is a new All Black and thoroughly deserves his place in the team. Below, left: Brian Muller, is photographed at work at Hutton's at Eltham. This will be his first tour, and well earned. Below, right: Alan Smith, another of our farmer footballers, is deserving of the honour bestowed on him.

N. PLYMOUTH HOSPITAL CENTENARY

It was a round of very popular functions over the period of a whole weekend for the centenary of the New Plymouth hospital. The most popular function was the garden party and official part of the proceedings on the lawns of the hospital, when the centennial gained the wishes of many speakers, including the Minister of Health, Mr McKay. Around 700 people at some time connected with the hospital were there to meet old friends and renew acquaintances made many years ago. The majority of the visitors were ex-nurses, judging by the talk we heard on the lawn. Above: The present day hospital, just 100 years after the first building was used on top of this hill. Below: Chairman of the hospital Board, Mr H.E. Blyde, welcomes the official guests and visitors. Bottom: A great vantage point was gained by the nurses and staff of the hospital. They were really on duty, but sneaked out to hear what was going on.

Nursing Through The Ages

The pageant of "Nursing through the ages" at the recent hospital centenary was a fine effort on the part of those responsible, and we feel much enjoyed by all. Here are the nurses who took part in this cavalcade. Above, from left: Lorraine Speck, Colleen Orr, Sister Marita and Judith Brown. Below, from left: Judith Haigh, Kathleen Coyne, Lynette Dean and Shirley Duke.

Sydney, Suva, or Cunnamulla?
Wellington, Waimate, or West Eyreton?

MOTORING WITH ROBBIE

AN OVER-TIGHTENED NUT can be easily removed by searing it briefly with a torch. Hold the wrench ready to loosen the nut the instant you remove the torch, otherwise the heat will transfer to the stud and expand that too. Keep the flame adjusted down to a minimum to avoid damaging the paint.

HOSE OF HAND TIRE PUMP

REPLACING a tubeless tyre valve need not be difficult even if a proper installing tool isn't available. Press the valve in the rim hole and then screw on the tyre pump fitting. Place a claw hammer under the fitting and pull the valve into position.

HANDY HINTS

In a real emergency you can use water instead of brake fluid in the hydraulic brake system, but make sure that the system is drained and thoroughly flushed out as soon as possible afterwards.

POUR SIX OUNCES OF DENATURED ALCOHOL INTO FUEL TANK

Left:

TO CLEAR the petrol tank of water pour in about 6 fluid ounces of methylated spirit. The spirit will absorb the water and it will go through the engine during the normal course of combustion without causing the engine to miss.

Right:

DON'T throw away the rubber ends of a battery hydrometer if the glass tube breaks. Press the tip into the bulb and you'll have a syringe for adding water to the battery or drawing dirty oil from the filter housing.

COVER INSIDE OF TAIL LIGHT WITH RED REFLECTIVE TAPE

Left: TAIL LIGHTS will reflect more light when switched off and glow brighter when lit if you cover the inside with red reflective tape. When you put back the lens the tape will be hidden but its reflective qualities won't be impaired.
