HOLLYWOOD APPLE

The Beatles Apple Records Company have opened an office in Hollywood. There to welcome the companies General Manager, Tony King, when he arrived from England to move into his Hollywood office were Ringo Starr and John Lennon. Its anybody's guess at this stage whether the London office will be closed down and all operations based in Hollywood or whether this is an extension of the present operation.

This years Now Sound Awards will be announced at a function in New Plymouth during November. Keep reading this column for further information on both the awards and the forthcoming announcement of award winners.

This months nomination for the title of 'Worst Commercial of the Year' is the 'Alan Martin TV and Radio' commercial.

STATIC FREE

EMI in England are at present experimenting with methods to prevent that annoying static that is heard on records,

EMI in England are at present experimenting with methods to prevent that annoying static that is heard on records, and is caused by electrostatic charges.

The company is experimenting with a device developed by 3M. The device is called a static eliminator bar and is a self powered machine with neither moving parts or wires.

Wire causes local ionization of the air and the new 3M instrument provides a conducting path which drains any nearby charges, it is reported.

EMI claim that even their present rigorous precautions which include total air-conditioning of vast production areas fail to eliminate dust that is prevalent in pressing and collating areas of their factories around the world, is not enough to totally free discs of static.

It is hoped that the 3M instrument together with certain new production procedures will totally eliminate that annoying static.

PRICE INCREASE

Two New Zealand record companies have raised their retail prices of records, effective last month.

Now Sound warned its readers some eight months ago to expect a price increase in records this year, a warning that has now become reality.

The companies however cannot be blamed for the increases for it relates back to the oil crisis. These companies are now paying a greatly increased price for the vinyl that is required to produce records and it is only natural that this increase has to be passed to the consumer.

Singles have increased from $1-15 to $1-25, EP's have not increased, Mid Price albums have increased from $3-99 and $4-00 to $4-30, Budget albums have increased from $2-50 and $2-99 to $2-99 and $3-50 respectively, and Full Price albums have increased from $5-75 to $6-50. There are other changes too, but the above list covers the main record items.

The remaining record companies are expected to follow suit and increase their prices also.

NEW ALBUMS

RAY STEVENS.....Boogity Boogity..... Barnaby 6003.

Stevens and his topical comment on Streakers (together with side remarks at Ethel—"Get your clothes on Ethel"), released under the title 'The Streak' took the charts by storm, literally. That same style is evident throughout all his work on this album. He makes another topical comment in 'Heart Transplant' and that piece is a real scream. A track titled 'Smith and Jones' is not what it appears to be. There is no connection at all with the TV series, but it is a zany piece about two agents of C.I. and A and F.B. and I, who unknown to each other set out to trap a 'Flasher'. Their antics are hilarious.

J.J. CALE.....Okie.....Shelter 2107.

If you like what I describe as 'cool blues' Cale is a must for you. J.J. as his friends tend to call him, has already released several albums in this country and throughout all of them, there has been no change at all in his style and presentation. So it is with this album too. Cale's easy-relaxed, super cool style, has given blues music a different meaning and has given J.J. Cale a very special place in the annals of modern music.

ABBA.....Waterloo.....Family Label 222.

This Swedish group consists of two guys and two girls. A film clip of them performing their hit song 'Waterloo' has been screened on television recently and has received a great deal of favourable comment. 'Waterloo' is of course included on this set of numbers. The remaining ten songs are in the general Waterloo mould and all feature those incredible Abba harmonies and their very distinctive vocal style. Abba are a group who obviously have a lot to offer and from whom we may be sure there will be much more to come.

KINDY CABARET

Frankleigh Park Kindergarten Cabaret was held last month at the Ferndale Hall. The hall was packed to bursting point with a fun loving crowd. The cabaret was not as memorable as one this organisation held a couple of years ago and it would be nice to see a repetition of this type of event in the future.

SOCCER

N.P. CITY v. LEVIN UNITED

In an interesting game played at Western Park, N.P. City drew One all with Levin United. Neither side could gain an advantage and the two goals were scored comparatively early in the game. The rest of the game was spent with both teams trying to gain superiority but every time failing to do so. Time and time again one team or the other would make a thrust right to the goalmouth, only to be defeated by good defence.

SOCCER CENTRAL CITY v. FITZROY

Fitzroy suffered a dramatic defeat at the hands of Central City when the two teams met at Western Park three weeks ago. Central City won the match 5 Nil in a game that was notable for its lack of pace and action. Fitzroy, while being hopelessly outclassed were none-the-less not entirely responsible for the lack of action in the game. Central never looked as if they had their heart fully on the play and consequently did not play their best.

A clash develops near goalmouth and this time Fitzroy win.

RUGBY

TARANAKI MAORIS v. WANGANUI

Wanganui Maoris beat Taranaki Maoris 11-9 in a match at Rugby Park, New Plymouth, last month. Taranaki looked the better side by far throughout the first half and during most of the second half. They scored their 9 point total at the beginning of the game and tried to keep Wanganui at bay for the rest of the match. However in the last half of the second half the local side found this increasingly difficult with increasing attacks by Wanganui which finally found their mark.

Lunch concert

Over the past few months many lunch-time concerts have been performed at the Govett-Brewster Gallery in New Plymouth. In the middle of last month we sent our camera along to one of these concerts. In our opinion it was disappointing that more people did not take advantage of the opportunity to attend the concert, but those who did were obviously enthusiastic and praised the whole concept of lunch-time concerts. The concert that we attended featured David Woodcock at the piano and the Ian Menzies Madrigal Group.

David Woodcock's piano recital was well received.

Albert Roberts recently retired from the staff of Woolworths in New Plymouth, after seventeen years of service with the company. Want to have a Ball? Well, look for the preview announcement in this issue of the inaugural Photo News Awards Ball. It is to be held at the St Josephs Community Hall in New Plymouth on November 15th. Guest artist will be Ray Columbus, music by Taranaki's own Kount Five and the awards will be presented by the Mayor of New Plymouth, Mr D.V. Sutherland. Photo News is doing a lot of good work within, and for the community and it has chosen to contribute the proceeds from the Awards Ball to Plunket.

It was a pretty mild winter and the ski season wasn't all that very long. One thing though; the elements were kind during the August school holidays and we were able to direct many hundreds of visitors to the snow. It's amazing how many of the people who holiday in Taranaki do so because of the mountain. And of one thing I'm sure; visitors are more aware of Egmont, and use it more, than Taranakians do.

Don't see much television, but do enjoy "Dave Allen At Large". So there's no hesitation in relating this one..... Two cannibals were resting in the shade when they saw a missionary cycling towards them. "Ah" said one, "Meals on Wheels".

Prevention is the best cure. And that is especially true on our roads. Wondered why no traffic was building up behind this sedate traveller during a trip from Mokau to New Plymouth. Noticed a motorcyclist (through the rear vision mirror) and he looked for all the world like a traffic officer. But looks can deceive — as we noted when he drifted serenely by. Just another traveller. Wasn't long before traffic did start to build up and go by. Seems the motorcyclist fooled many of them.

Bystander: "I see you are putting up a new building". Foreman: "Yes. This company has a strict policy — we never put up an old one"

There is a lot of outside interest in the MAUI off shore natural gas project. We have received numerous inquiries— some from overseas— seeking information about developments and the possibilities of visiting and viewing different aspects. Maui will be in the news for several years to come and the name Taranaki will thus remain to the forefront. It is logical therefore, that promotional efforts will need to be stepped up to gain the maximum possible mileage from the project.

Father criticised the sermon, mother disliked the blunders of the organist, eldest daughter thought the choir's singing atrocious. But the small boy of the family, with a sense of fair play, had other ideas. "I think it was jolly good for five cents", he said.

NEW PATROL HEADQUARTERS TO BE BUILT

The Fitzroy Surf Club is to build a new Patrol Headquarters. The planned building is to be 3,100 sq. feet and of concrete block construction with aluminium window frames. The design is planned to keep maintenance costs to a minimum. The building will incorporate a hall, kitchen and toilets and will be erected on the seaward side of the present tower. This will give the Surf Patrol a comprehensive view of the beach area. The present building is the sixth Headquarters of the club and was moved from the airport in 1946. It has now reached the end of its economic life. The new building will be built entirely by voluntary labour and mostly with donated materials.
