GREAT DAY

For the Catholics of Taranaki February 9 was a great day, the opening of their very own boys' college at New Plymouth. For boarders and day boys alike, the college has pupils from all over Taranaki. It has yet to be completed, as the middle picture shows, but it won't be long.

Some of the emotions felt at this realisation of a dream are on the faces of the Stratford boys being marshalled by Fathers Carmine and Card and boarding the bus which will take them off to their fine new school. Left and right below.
