TE HENUI VICARAGE

The Te Henui Vicarage was handed over to the New Plymouth City Council, two weeks back, by the Historic Places Trust.

This magnificent old stone building should become one of New Plymouth's better known tourist attractions in years to come, especially if it is promoted in the manner of which it is deserving.

In this photo, the picture has been treated in a manner known as 'tonal drop-out,' to produce a very striking result.

ST JOSEPH'S PARISH BALL

The New Plymouth St Joseph's Parish Ball was held a few weeks back. Held on a Friday night, the ball was perhaps a little slow to start, as many arrived after the shops closed at 8.30 p.m. However, people soon got into the swing of the evening and enjoyed themselves.

PRObe

with BRYCE McPHERSON

There's been a lot of talk and criticism about the condition of the New Plymouth Opera House. Reports indicate that a lot of work and money is necessary to create a "safe" facility.

Well, the Daly-Wilson Big Band played in the Opera House last month; and as the old building stood up to the band's "BIG" sound twice, it should be able to resist a major earthquake.

A drama critic had eaten too heavily and too quickly before rushing to the theatre for the first night's performance of a play. At the end of the first act he belched loudly several times.

A young woman seated in front of him turned around and asked, "Would you mind waiting until you get back to your office before writing your review?"

Two little boys, newcomers to Taranaki, couldn't wait to try their luck fishing. The morning after arrival saw them off to the harbour, new fishing rods in hand. Came lunch time and presto, boys entered the house with a fish each. They were tiddlers, but fish: and Mum had to cook them for lunch.

Asked how long it took them to land their fish, and where they caught them, the lads said: "Well, we didn't catch them. A man gave them to us. Said his wife would never believe that he had spent all morning casting for such small 'fry'!"

There's many a slip, as I observed at a meeting I attended recently. A speaker, addressing his remarks to a general subject raised from the floor, referred to a latent tradesman as . . . "a paper and painterhanger."

"Well," snarled the tough old sergeant to the private, "I suppose after you get discharged from the Army you'll just be waiting for me to die so you can come and spit on my grave."

"Not me, Sarge," the private assured him. "Once I get out of the Army I'm never going to stand in line again!"

"I hate my mother-in-law," said one cannibal to the other during dinner. "Well," replied the other cannibal, "just eat the vegetables."

Another city attraction was opened on October 13. The New Plymouth Potters Group's new facility backing onto the historic Te Henui Vicarage in Courtenay Street blends in well with the stone building.

The potters' workroom is open from 1-5 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays and, with the vicarage as an additional attraction, is well worth a visit.

The instructor, seeking recruits for the regimental band, approached Private Jones.

"Do you play an instrument?", he asked.

"Yes," replied Jones, "but only at home."

"Really, and what instrument do you play?", asked the instructor.

Jones, miserably: "Second fiddle."

"Photo News" is pleased to announce that it has initiated a series of awards which will be presented annually, commencing late this year.

The awards, which will be made solely on merit and on a Taranaki-wide basis, are in four categories.

The top award is 'For Valour.' This award is for acts of personal bravery, especially in an endeavour to save life.

The 'Citizenship Award' is to be awarded for service to the community and/or organisations; endeavours to improve the environment or way of life, and also for specific acts or services not recognised by other awards.

The 'Arts and Sciences Award' is for specific talent in, or services to the Arts, Science or Music.

The fourth award is the 'Citation Award.' It is to be given to a company or organisation which, by way of development of a product or service, or by collective efforts, has helped to improve the way of life or has offered service to the community that it is felt deserves recognition.

It is emphasised that all of these awards will be made on merit and that no set number of awards are to be made in any given year.

To be eligible for an award a recipient must be a resident of the province of Taranaki.

Any Taranaki resident may nominate another for any of these awards at any time. Such nominations will then be considered by a committee, which is to comprise a minimum of four members and a maximum of eight members, each to be representing one area, town, city or district within Taranaki. This committee will then decide who is to receive the awards.

The management of Annabel Publications, publishers of "Photo News", is to select the committee and, in the event of the committee being unable to reach a decision, the Editor of "Photo News" shall have a casting vote. Other than the right to make a casting vote, he shall not vote in the selection of recipients for the awards.

Nominations of "Photo News Awards" should be posted to P.O. Box 427, New Plymouth, and addressed: Awards Nomination.

Presentation of "Photo News Awards" will be made sometime between November 1 and December 24 each year at either a private or public function within the province of Taranaki. Such time and place to be decided each year by the management of Annabel Publications.

We Ask For Your Support

"Photo News" asks the public throughout the whole Taranaki province to support our new awards.

We particularly appeal to you to nominate those who you feel are deserving of recognition.

Nomination is a simple matter. All you are asked to do is name the person and the category of the award for which you wish to nominate him or her. An outline of the reasons for which you feel that your nomination deserves an award is necessary, and we then need the address of the person that you are nominating, plus your signature and name and address. Telephone numbers of both yourself and the person that you nominate would also be helpful.

As there is not a great deal of time between now and when the first awards are to be presented, we ask you send your nominations to us as soon as possible.

MOTORCYCLE SCRAMBLES

The New Plymouth Cycle Club held scrambles a few weeks ago and "Photo News" went along to catch some of the excitement on film. The course was certainly a good test for the riders' skill and ability.

Results of Gilbert & Sullivan Competition

It seems that there are many lovers of Gilbert and Sullivan in Taranaki, for the response to our competition was excellent. After much deliberation we finally selected the following winners, who, we are told, thoroughly enjoyed the show.

They were: Mrs M. Pelham, New Plymouth; Mrs G. T. Secombe, New Plymouth; Mrs C. P. Mellow, Pungarehu; Vivienne Adamson, Inglewood; and Janet Ayles, also of Inglewood.

Results of Record Competition

The winner of our competition is Paul Davis of Patiki Road, Opunake. Paul wins for himself a total of 90 records by a great variety of artists and we are sure he'll get many hours of enjoyment from his prize.

Second prize for 10 records goes to Allison McPherson of New Plymouth.

Would prize winners please arrange to collect the records from "Photo News."

N.P. DARTS CABARET

The New Plymouth Darts Club held the annual cabaret and prizegiving evening, a couple of weeks back, in the Queens Hall. A large crowd attended and all seemed to enjoy the evening.

A PREVIEW OF SUMMER FASHIONS

Accessory House and the La Filette Model Agency combined recently to present a preview of some of the summer fashion garments that we will be seeing soon. The preview of these fashions was presented exclusively for "Photo News" readers and we are sure that readers will be as happy with the fashions as we at "Photo News" are.

Some of the girls gather for an informal chat before posing for the camera

June and Gaye enjoy the spring sunshine and look forward to the arrival of summer

Gaye Fearn models Spangle trousers with belt. They are navy, with turned-up cuffs. She matches the trou with a Vonnell waistcoat styled halter top

Shirley McDonald was in high spirits too. Details of her dress are on the next page

Shirley models a patio frock. It is black, white and grey, a full-length frock, floral patterned

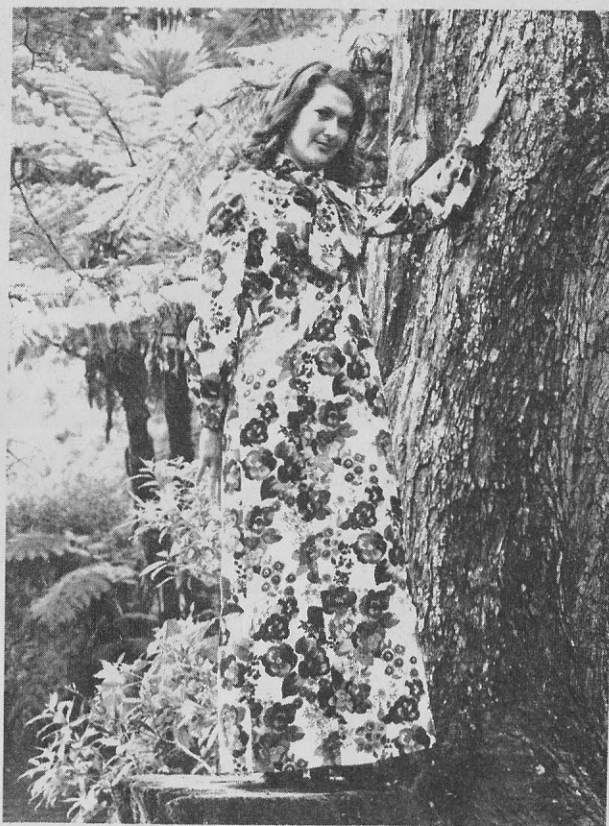

June Van Stigt wears a long frock. It is a halter design, and is white, spotted with deep blue

Brenda Eustace favours a knee length skirt

Brenda wears a Society 8 gored skirt, a matching shirt top with elastic round the base of the sleeves, and a tie belt. The new look for summer

Shirley's dress matches and blends with the tones of nature

Naomi George models a London Deb three-piece trouser suit, with seersucker check shirt-b blouse, and sleeveless jacket trimmed with flap pockets and piping. The trousers are of plain colour but with the popular wide cuffs

The laziness of summer, with a quiet chat in cool, relaxing gear — that is the trend for the coming season

VICTORY HOSTESS CONTEST

The Victory Hostess Contest was held recently, being staged in the Town Hall in Eltham. Each entrant was interviewed by disc jockey Les Hyland, and both the public and the judges were able to judge for themselves how the entrants would stand up to public life. After a period of deliberation, the judges finally selected Vicki McLeod to represent Taranaki at the Commonwealth Games as our Victory Hostess.

NOW SOUND

SHONA LAING ON AUSTRALIAN CHARTS

New Zealander singer Shona Laing has had her hit of a short while back "1905" released in Australia and the disc is already rating on some Australian charts.

This puts Shona in the same class as a small band of New Zealand entertainers that includes Max Merritt and the Meteors, Allison Durbin and the Avengers, who have been featured in Australian record charts. It is a fact that very few New Zealanders ever make the Australian charts, though hundreds of our entertainers make the trip across the Tasman and work in the Australian entertainment industry. Shona's feat is more remarkable as she is not even working the Australian circuit.

In addition to "1905", Shona Laing's more recent hit "Show Your Love" is being released in Australia and interest in her has also been expressed from the much larger American music industry.

Shona has now left school to concentrate on a full-time musical career.

STUDIO ONE CHANGED

Studio One is to be changed. Well, the show has had an excellent run with an increasing interest by the public over the years. In fact, you could say that the show has never before been quite as popular and if New Zealand had a proper T.V. rating system, Studio One would be one of the contenders for the title of 'Most Popular Programme.' So why the axe?

Actually, it is not so much a matter of axing the show but of making major changes in the next series.

Producer Chris Bourne says that radical changes have been made to the format and the system of a four judge panel is to be changed. Bourne finds the latter particularly unsatisfactory and says that the judging depends too much on those four people.

So we all look forward to the next Studio One series with greater interest than before, if only to see how the changes affect the programme.

SHORT SNORTS

Have reason to believe that Australian star Johnny ('Sadie, the Cleaning Lady') Farnham is to tour New Zealand again this summer... And that Leon Russell will also be heading to New Zealand. Now that will be some tour. Big question is, who will Russell bring with him as backing musicians? ... Procul Harum in Australia a short while ago... Alice Cooper is to embark on a motion picture career in addition to his musical pursuits... Davy Jones of Monkee fame is back on the road, and heading down under... David Cassidy is also coming to this side of the world. Harry Miller's organisation is bringing him to Australia and, though it has not been stated definitely, that will probably include New Zealand as well... Jethro Tull very unhappy about recent receptions to their Passion Play and talk of quitting because of it. Well, that's ridiculous. No good band (and Tull are excellent) talk of quitting just because they don't get rave notices over one part of their career. Hell, Deep Purple have had it up and down all the time they have existed and at present it is particularly rough for them, but quitting, no, never... John Rowles back in New Zealand for a holiday. Nice to have you back again, John... Now Sound readers who have written to the writer and expressed their opinions on who should get the various Now Sound Awards this year are thanked. We appreciate your comments and would like to hear from still more of you. To refresh your memory, Now Sound Awards are made in both International and New Zealand sections in each of the following categories... Male Singer, Female Singer, Group, Most Promising New Artist or Group, Single of the Year, Album of the Year. Write and tell us who you think should receive these awards. Write to: Now Sound Awards, P.O. Box 427, New Plymouth... I am told that the show "Jesus Christ Superstar" will be playing this summer in several New Zealand centres... Thought Suzanne's quickly acquired British accent was disgusting. The accent certainly does not suit her nor, I am sure, will do much to commend her to her fellow countrymen. Thank God she doesn't sing with a British accent. Wake up Suzanne, New Zealand prefers you as a New Zealander... After all Sue, you have been around since the days of The Chicks, you grew up with us...

BREAD COMING BACK TOGETHER?

The Bread split may not be a permanent one after all.

A report from America has it that the group have gone their separate ways for a pre-determined period of six months and that they will come back together as a group at the end of this year.

During the break each Bread member is pursuing separate musical projects, free of any group obligations. Upon the reformation of the group, the first project is expected to be the recording of a new album.

Riflemen held a social evening at the Bell Block Hotel recently, which culminated in the presentation of trophies.

The occasion was, of course, the club's end-of-season break-up. Quite a number of trophies were presented on the night and we picture some of them here.

Dudley School Fancy Dress

Inglewood's Dudley School annual fancy dress was a very enjoyable affair. The costumes showed imagination, the supper was excellent, the kids' folk dancing showed the work that had been put into it by the teachers, and even the parents were catered for, with dancing.

Fitzroy Soccer Club's Presentations

The Fitzroy Club's end-of-season soccer presentations took place, a few weeks back, at Glen Avon Hall. In addition to all the actual presentations of awards, children were treated to a little entertainment, such as a lolly scramble (BOTTOM) and a session of indoor bowls (RIGHT).

NEW PLAYCENTRE OPENS

A new playcentre opened this month. This one is situated in Inglewood and is being housed at the rear of the Inglewood Town Hall. On opening day the children found their new environment a little strange and it was expected that it would take a wee while for them to settle down. However, many found new and interesting things to occupy them.

Rangers' Fashion Parade

Members of the Kokowai Ranger Unit recently staged a fashion parade as a part of a social evening at the Methodist Church Hall. The girls had been coached for some time prior to the parade by girls from the La Fillette Model Agency and this training certainly showed on the night.

Music for the parade was provided by Ranger Julie Smith on the piano accordion
