Vol. 19, No. 8 AUGUST, 1975

snowfields

There have certainly been some heavy snowfalls this winter, and this has made conditions pretty good for both skiers and those who like to have a romp in the snow. It has also made condition excellent for those who hunt with a camera.

WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 17th.

Another try to the Maori score

Going gets the ball again.

A neat flying tackle, but Tonga still has control of the ball at this point.

RUGBY

THE FIRST TEST — TONGA v. NZ MAORIS

Sid Going certainly turned on the power to become the undisputed 'star' of the day, when the first test between Tonga and NZ Maoris was played at Rugby Park New Plymouth in the middle of last month. Sid inspired his team throughout the match and they went on to really clean up the match with a final score of 23 to 16.

Those Maoris are mighty hard to stop when they're in control, and they certainly were at this test.

Sid Going may have had a Tongan hand on his neck but he eluded it and went on the score a try.

A clearing kick for the Maori team.

The high jumping of the Tongans didn't really do them very much good in the long run.

This is one way to smother the ball.

It may look like a 'bug' in the middle field, but it's not.

Ball is cleared and another run starts.

LEAGUE

TARANAKI B. v. TARANAKI SENIORS

The curtain raiser to the big match, Taranaki v. Northland was between Taranaki B and the Taranaki Seniors. Taranaki B. won the match with a final score of 23 to 11 but perhaps more important was the quality of play that these younger players exhibited. This match showed the public that Taranaki has the potential to remain very strong in League for a long time to come.

It's not quite the 'ball up the jumper' trick, but it was an excellent run.

And yet another attack commences, this one ending in a try.

5th GRADE -- ARAMOHO (WANGANUI) V. CENTRAL.

Several Soccer teams from Wanganui (around 11 teams) came up to play New Plymouth teams last month. While a large proportion of the teams were matched against Fitzroy teams, (It was the Fitzroy Club that arranged the tourney) some played Central teams. Pictured on this page is a 5th Grade match between Wanganui's Aramoho Rebels v. Central. Central won the match, which was held at the NP Racecourse, by 8 to 1.

The ball is shot between the posts as the defender falls to the ground

Team work like this helps.

A tussle for the ball as an attacking move builds up.

'The Mighty Midget' gains control while everyone else stands around watching

A solid kick send the ball down field.

Opunake Bride of the Year

The Opunake Bride of the Year was held last month and organised by Plunket. Nearly 300 people attended the event which saw nineteen girls entered. The winner, Mrs Lynne Wright was chosen by a vote from the audience.

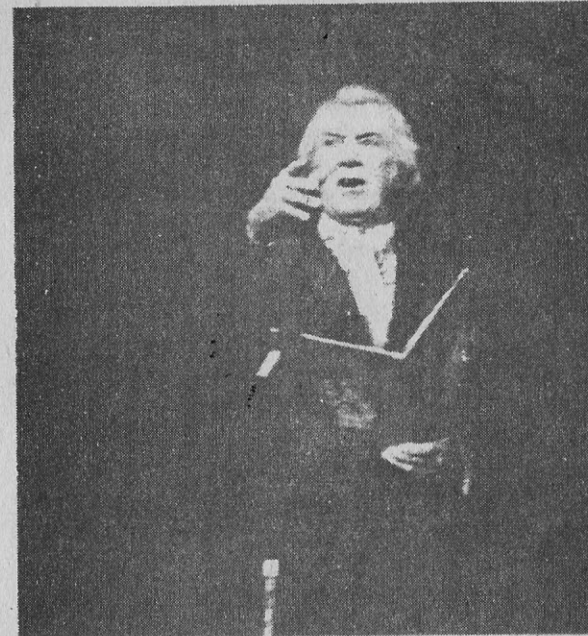

The placegetters in the contest. No 10, Lynne Wright won the event, No 2, Jenny Dawson was second and No 12 Marilyn Gredig came third.

Nineteen entries were received in the contest. They are pictured lined up on stage at the finale.

SNOW WHITE SHOW

'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' played at the New Plymouth Opera House for several days, at the end of last month. Kids in their hundreds came to see the show and went home thoroughly delighted with the whole thing.

The storyteller starts the show.

"Hi Ho, Hi Ho, it's off to....."

Dwarfs pass the time of day in pleasant manner. Skipping makes 'Happy' happier.

ALL ABOUT THE BALL

guest artist Lou Clausen

Last year's Ball created such interest from throughout the province that we have had to cater for a much bigger crowd this year. This is perhaps to be expected for nothing succeeds like success and last year's event was certainly that. In fact it was called 'The Ball of the Year'.

This year will see the Ball at the War Memorial Hall in Waitara. The hall is large enough to cater for the large crowd that is expected yet has the ability to retain an intimate atmosphere that is so necessary for this social event of the year.

Kount Five will again be providing the music and the Mayor of Waitara, Mr Dick Wilson will be presenting the Photo News Awards.

Lou Clausen (of Lou and Simon fame) will present his forty minute floorshow spectacular which is always the highlight of any show. Lou's show features loads and loads of give-aways and prizes a few songs and so many laughs that your sides will still be aching the following morning.

Lou is like that. He has been just about the best value for laughs and comedy routines that we have seen in New Zealand and in this time of worry and uncertainty, Lou will certainly provide the medicine we need to forget our troubles.

A LAUGH A SECOND, THAT'S LOU CLAUSEN

Then of course our special guest is going to be 'Trev. Dagg'.

Trev's appearance is bound to be a highlight of the night for it is seldom that we have anyone of his calibre appearing on shows in Taranaki.

To make it easy for those wishing to purchase tickets to the Photo News Ball, we have arranged for agents right throughout Taranaki, where you can pick up and pay for your ticket.

At $15.00 a double and $8.00 a single it is not an expensive night out by any means and the entertainment that is offered is more than value for money.

BUILDING OPENED

The New Plymouth Waterfront Credit Union now has its own headquarters building.
The building at the Port of Taranaki, was opened last month. The Unions members have all volunteered their labour over the past six months to build the offices.

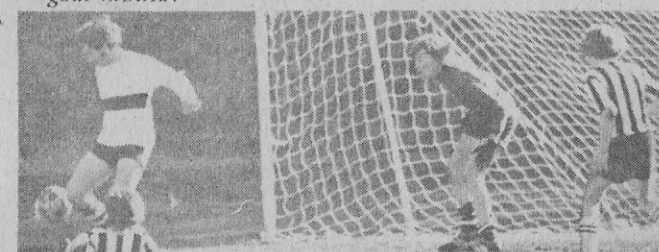

SOCCER

ELTHAM v. OLD BOYS

Eltham won their match last month against Old Boys B. at Western Park, New Plymouth, with a final score of four, nil.
It wasn't really very exciting soccer but Eltham made the most of their opportunities and never really looked like being challenged at any time during the match.

An attacking move that takes the ball up close to the goal mouth.

And with the ball right at the goal, a last minute save.

"Look Daddy, I'm going to be a soccer star when I grow up. Look how I sight the ball and prepare to rush those players from the other team.....and.....whoops"

Some smart footwork and the opposition is eluded.

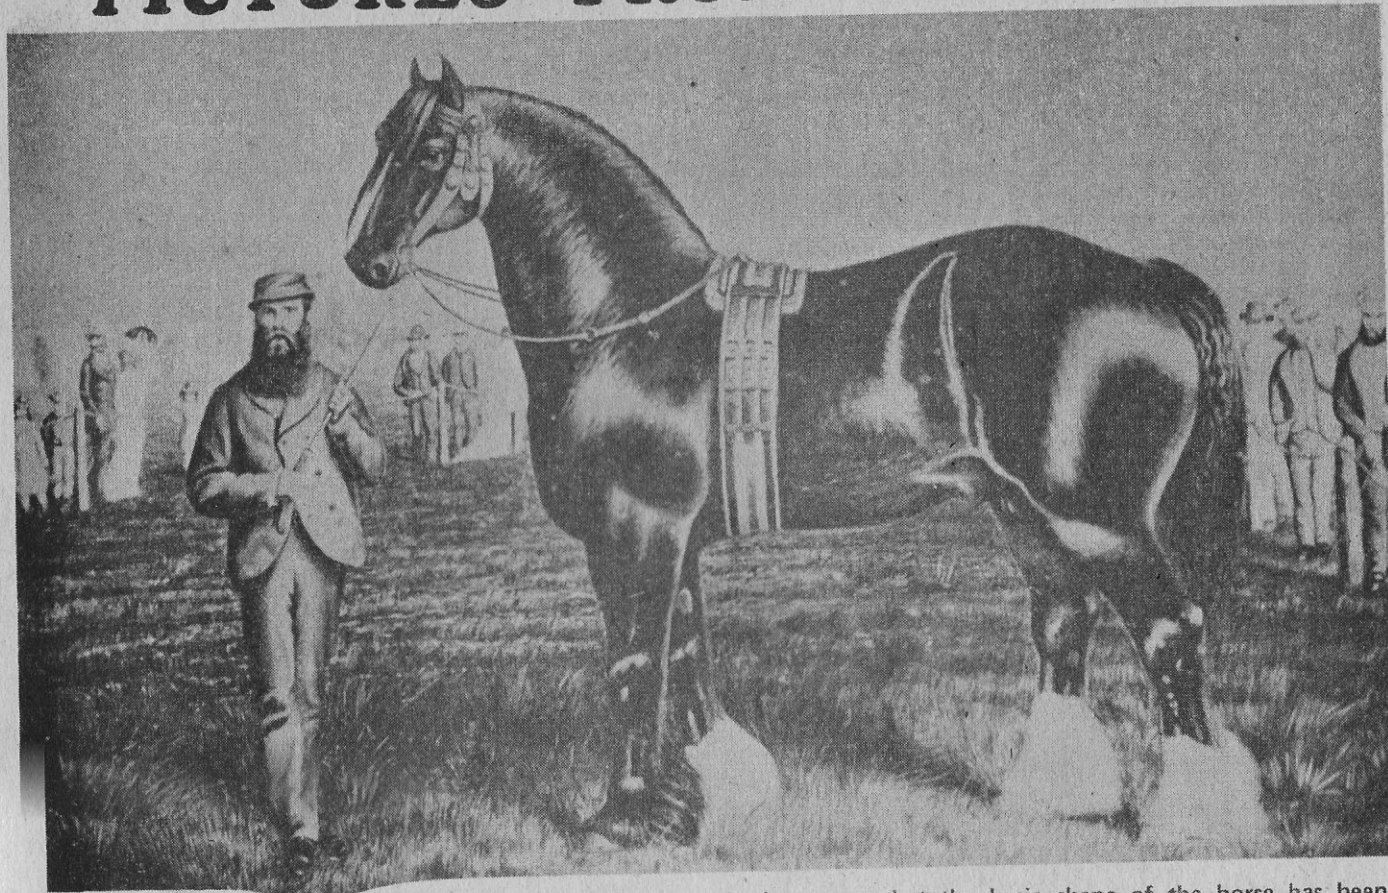

A baffle for the ball fells a player.

Team work on the part of Eltham won them the game.

PICTURES FROM THE PAST

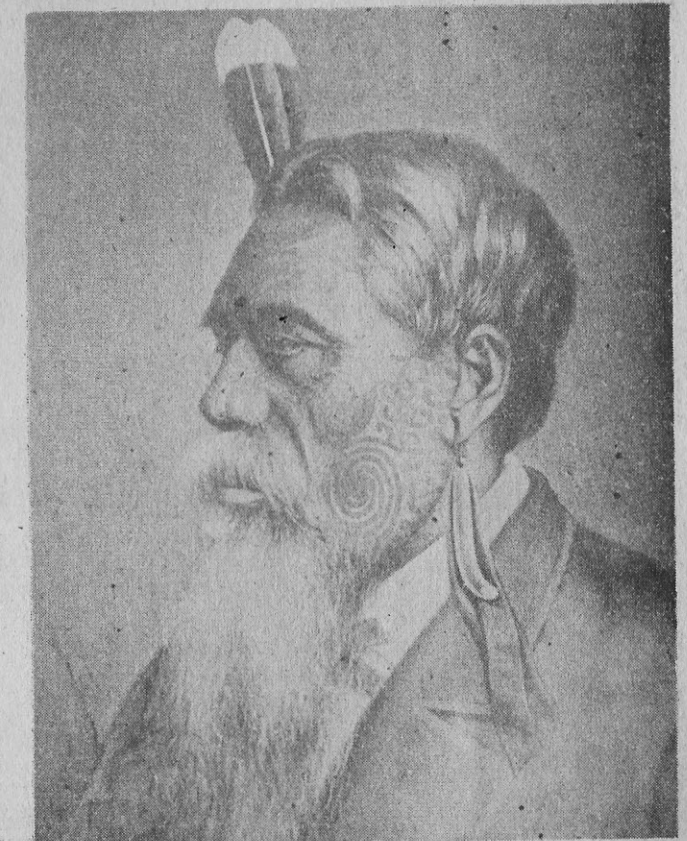

Two paintings of the horse of last century. It will be noticed at once that the basic shape of the horse has been changed with selective breeding over the years. Both the draught horse (above) and the thoroughbred (below) have been changed. Particularly noticeable is the small head of the thoroughbred.

On this page we feature portraits of the Maori of last century. Above left is General Te Mete Kingi and Above right is Wiremu Kingi. It seems apparant that there were several of the name Wiremu Kingi and it is not known which this gentleman is.

Two elaborately tattooed Maori men. These two lived in the mid 1800's and although their names are not known, it is thought that they lived in the Hastings--Napier area.

Main Centre tanker drivers have been causing further problems, what with stop work meetings and the resulting threat of no petrol on weekends. But I doubt that the lack of supply to service stations will cause the latter — not if the speed of delivery counts.

That is, the time taken by some tankers to get from point to point.

Followed — rather attempted to — one for over twenty miles the other day. My 50 mph. gave an occasional view of the tanker's rear end, and generally only when hills slowed him down.

That vehicle would have been among the most lethal on the road. — a 'flying bomb'.

Next stop Christchurch. From August 23 till September 6, Taranaki will be on show in the South Island for the first time.

By courtesy of a very generous local, Mr Chris Carter, proprietor of the animated 'Wonderland', already seen by thousands of Taranaki and Auckland people, the Taranaki Promotion Association will be exhibiting at the NZ Industries Fair.

'Wonderland' will be a feature attraction at the Fair, and the Taranaki display will be sited adjacent to it. Four provincially orientated people will tell interested visitors or holiday-makers about our splendid attractions.

WALK-ATHON

The Waitara Rugby League Club staged a 'walk-athon' last month in order to raise funds. All club members who took part were sponsored and were required to complete the distance from Waitara to the Tikorangi Store and return. Pictured is the scene as the walk-athon got under way.

"Hey kid, you're supposed to walk"

Interested bystanders watch and wonder

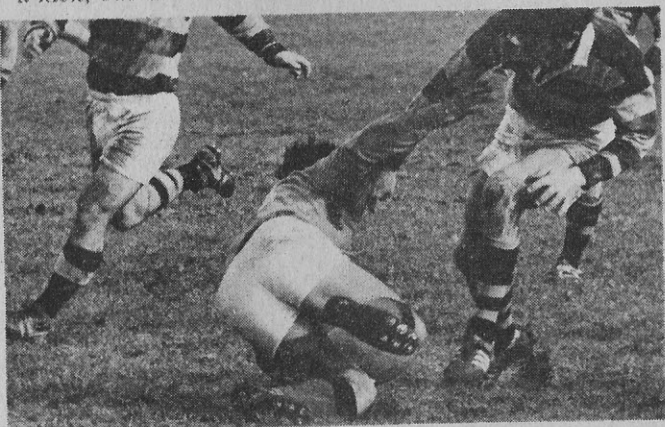

A steady pace is maintained by these three club members as they head out of town, to Tikorangi.

The Maori player falls, on top of the ball.

The Maori team had some brilliant moments and their handling of the ball was excellent.

RUGBY

TARANAKI B. v. TARANAKI MAORIS

In a rather scrappy match, Taranaki B team just managed to 'pip' Taranaki Maoris with a final score of 24 to 21. The match was the curtain raiser for the Tonga v. NZ Maoris test and was held at Rugby Park before a large crowd that was estimated to be over sixteen thousand.

The picture makes it appear as if the boot is being applied to a fallen player, but it is not so.

RUGBY

STAR v. N.P.O.B.

Star came home with a comfortable 21 to 10 win over NPOB at a match last month at Rugby Park. Star played much better rugby than on the last occasion that we happened to photograph them. Possibly spirited play by Old Boys had something to do with this. In the first half this match was fairly even with a half time score of 11-10 to Star. However in the second half the game belonged entirely to Star who made the most of all their opportunities.

Star in control.

FUNCTION FOR NEW RESIDENTS

A function was held at the Art Gallery in New Plymouth in the middle of last month at which the Mayor of New Plymouth, Denny Sutherland and Mrs Sutherland, welcomed new residents to the city. The function took the form of a morning tea and it was quite amazing to discover just how many new faces there are in the area.

KODALY STRINGS

A bout two hundred people went to the War Memorial Hall in New Plymouth last month to listen to the Kodaly String Quartet.

General consensus of opinion was that they were excellent and that more of this type of entertainment should be offered here. The programme was basically classical with material from Bartok, Mozart and Hayden.

TARANAKI v. NORTHLAND

After a very disappointing first half, in which the Taranaki side was beaten by 8 to 2, the local side, made a great comeback and woke not only their ideas up, but also the standard of their play. They came on strong in the second half and looked every bit the strong team that we have seen so often this year. The final score was 18 to 8 in Taranaki's favour. The match was the second in the series of Rothman's eliminations.

A rush, that got them precisely nowhere.

Northland's ball and they are on the attack.

Split Enz

Split Enz returned to New Zealand for a national tour after spending a successful period in Australia. Part of the tour involved a show at New Plymouth where we took these pix of the group. The 300 odd people who went to the show were thoroughly delighted with the evening's entertainment and no doubt will all be rushing along to get copies of the group's album

FUN IN THE SNOW

For this youngster it was his first look (and taste) of snow and he was absolutely fascinated.

With all the snow that has fallen on Egmont these last few weeks, we just couldn't resist driving up the mountain and having a close look. It seems a lot of other people had the same idea for there were loads of people all having the time of their lives, in the snow.

Many parents took their kids up the mountain for their first look at snow.

"Sliding along on my pushbike baby; tough that I didn't notice you"

"A pie in the eye for Daddy".

It looks as if it was more fun for Dad than for his youngster.

And the view from up the mountain was just terrific.

At this point it's still anybody's ball.

This attack is short lived.

RUGBY

STAR v. PATEA

The Star v. Patea match was held last month and while Star won the match with a final score of 27 to 9, it was not generally very exciting rugby. In fact it was not really a great deal of credit to Star that they did win. Club rugby of this standard we hope will not be repeated.

Patea take the ball from a line-out.

The ruck degenerates into a heaving pile of bodies.

Mountain Man

a ballad by TREVOR CRABTREE

"Buy me a beer and I'll tell you some lies of the wild outback where the Bush Hawk flies".
Well they bought him a beer, in fact gave him a jug,
For the tale that he told proved him no city mug.
Downing his ale he wiped froth from his lips,
"I'll tell of a man who was all log and no chips".

His face looked quite frozen, his chest showing bare,
Frost all a sparkle on the thick body hair.
He stood crouched in the door of the old Alpine hut like the rugged square Kauri that no man will cut.
We gazed up in awe, holding a part beer can for we never had met such a huge Mountain Man.

His eyes seemed to glisten like the sun through a fog
"Could either of you b.....s spare a dry man some grog?"
Taking one from my pack I tossed him the thing, he caught it in one hand, with his teeth pulled the ring.
It lasted a moment. "Could you do that again?"
I've been shot in the guts and it sure dulls the pain".

The second quickly followed the fate of the first with both of us wondering where his stomach had burst.
Drawing near to the fire he threw down the tin

'Mountain Man' is an excerpt from a soon to be published paperback called "Buy Me A Beer (and I'll tell you some lies)"

The paperback consists of stories and ballads about the New Zealand outback. It is written entirely by Trevor Crabtree and is to be published by Annabel Publications, P.O. Box 427, New Plymouth.

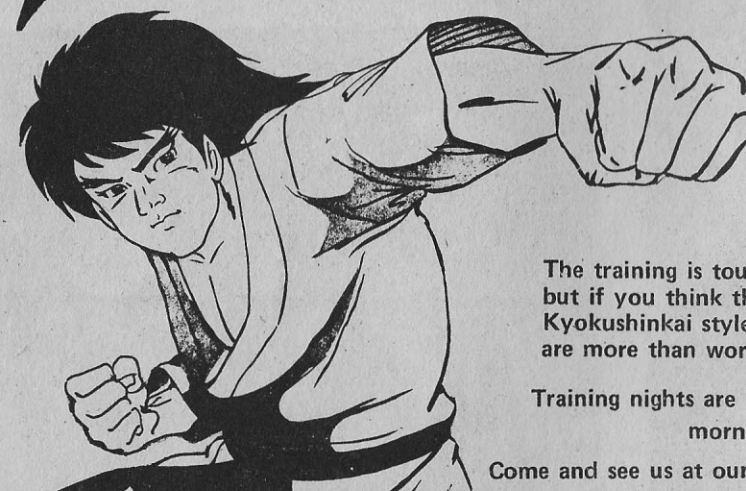

T'was then we both saw what his right hand held in.
Giving us a big smile he shrugged out of his pack,
"I know what you're thinking, but she's right Jack".

I have here a sack needle and old bailing twine things aren't so bad, I've kept what is mine"
Half an hour later with intestines in place
he started his sewing with my spare bootlace
"I get very annoyed when the damn things they itch".
as he finished a line of herring bone stitch.

"Well that's that, he said "Now I'll make me a stew
I always get hungry when I've had one or two".
We offered him ours for I must truly relate we couldn't have touched a thing on our plate.
Those Mountain Men are really bred tough
They're damn hard to stop when the going is rough.

"That's all to my story
and now I'll shove off
I must see my doctor about a slight cough".

The Bell Block Hotel turned on some first rate entertainment last month with a combination of the band Afro, and singers, Ike Robin and Claire Raine. Pictured is part of the floorshow. The group, it should be noted gave two shows a night while at the Bell Block.

Ike Robin was a popular singer too.

The band played on and on, and the big crowd wouldn't let them go.

BIKING TO RAISE FUNDS

One Sunday afternoon we were enjoying a casual drive around the province, when, seemingly out of nowhere came a bunch of cyclists, panting and generally making hard work of the going. Well, this was all explained away when we discovered that the cyclists were members of the New Plymouth Old Boys senior fourth Rugby team and that they were biking their way around the mountain on a hundred mile hike, to raise fund for the club.

Snow White & the seven dwarfs

As a promotion, prior to the show, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs made an appearance at the new Merrilands Shopping Centre. The children who flocked to see them, were thrilled with the antics of the dwarfs and even more delighted when they threw sweets to them. We thought it a pity that High School children rushed the sweets, trampling many of the younger children who were in their way.

CT Club Celebrates

To celebrate their becoming a separate Association, the New Plymouth C.T. Club held a special dinner and social at the end of last month. The event was held at the New Plymouth St Josephs Youth Centre and a very large attendance was noted.

LITTLE THEATRE SHOW

Waitara Little Theatre recently presented a hilarious comedy called 'Wind in the Branches of the Sassafras'. The cast was John Peters (doctor), David Besant (John Emery) Dawn Prossel (Caroline) Brian Bolland (Tom) Christine King (Pamela) Dave Anderson (Partridge Eye) Allan Smith (Carlos) and Nat Horton (Miriam).

There were a few shocks when it came to telling fortunes

Miriam requires reviving. Doctor Butler takes pleasure in the chore and uses whisky to achieve the result.

FRIENDLY VISIT

Members of several Judo clubs, including Wellington, Palmerston North, Hawera and the two New Plymouth clubs (NP Judo Club and NP Judo Academy) all got together last month for a friendly social visit. This all took place at the New Plymouth Judo Club Dojo in Currie Street.

After some friendly 'sparring' on the mat during the Saturday afternoon, a Hangi was provided to feed the hungry Judo-ka and this was followed by a social evening.

FROM THE PAST

Pictured below is one of the old Waiwakaiho Bridges. This wooden structure, while not being the very first bridge over the river, was certainly an early one and stood for many years. Now of course the bridge over the Waiwakaiho is again a focus point as the present structure carries the only city inlet from the north and is blamed as one of the major causes for traffic pile up in the area.

CAR RALLY

Staff from most New Plymouth Grocer's stores took part in a Car Rally last month. The Rally started at Dalton's at Strandon and took those who participated on a journey that ran a distance of some 32 miles and was timed to take a matter of two and a half hours. Perhaps needless to say, a few found the going a little rough at times and got, or nearly got, lost. Pictured are a few of the vehicles and drivers at the start of the event.

4th GRADE — ARAMOHO ROVERS (WANGANUI)
v. CENTRAL

This fourth grade match between Wanganui's Aramoho Rovers and the New Plymouth Central team, was played at The New Plymouth Racecourse last month as one of some eleven matches between Wanganui and New Plymouth soccer teams. Central won the match.

Putting the boot in...but...there's a player in the way.

NP BOYS HIGH v. ST PATRICK'S COLLEGE
(WELLINGTON)

A few exciting moments were witnessed in the first of the season defences by NP Boys High School for the Moascar Cup. This match was against St Patrick's College of Silverstream, Wellington. Boys High retained the cup with a 6 to 3 win but it was only in the last few minutes of play that they managed to convert a try and thereby win the match.

From a spectator viewpoint, playing for touch is something that we see far too much of.

And that ever-elusive ball has a mind of its own.

SOCCER

NEW PLYMOUTH CITY v. GLEN CARRON
(PALMERSTON NORTH)

While New Plymouth City won this match one nil, no one would credit them with having won a hard fought and well played match. The game was both uninteresting and poorly played and both teams need to pull their socks up if they wish to improve the standard of soccer at their grade.

a well placed boot — that missed.

ROLLING STONE

Lynyrd Skynyrd
Charlie Daniels
Houston Coliseum
April 6th, 1975

by Michael Point

Playing in Houston less than a year ago, the bottom-billed Skynyrd used tightly organized rock & roll power to severely scorch second act Marshall Tucker and headline Joe Walsh. On this return visit, they showed a sellout crowd of 12,000 that, with the Allmans in retreat as semi-mythical heroes, they now occupy the top spot in the Dixie rock structure.

Despite their draws and aggressive stances, Lynyrd Skynyrd is not actually in the mainstream of Southern music; they dish out straight-ahead songs and rarely, if ever, wander into the familiar Southern rock terrain of end-less boogies and laid-back jams. Their rock & roll, with punchy, three-guitar licks and Ronnie Van Zant's strong and surly vocals, makes Skynyrd probably the only Southern band capable of retaining the interest of, say, a New Yorker strong on Bad Company.

Opening with a screaming guitar lead, "I Ain't the One" prepared the audience for a steady succession of equally energetic numbers, songs like J. J. Cale's "Call Me the Breeze," "Gimme Three Steps" and the best of their new material from Nuthin' Fancy. Instead of indulging in some sort of triple lead rave-up, guitarists Ed King, Allen Collins and Gary Rossington preferred to hang back and reinforce the rhythm section (Leon Wilkeson on bass, Artemus Pyle playing percussion and Billy Powell on keyboards) when not soloing. By the time they began "Sweet Home Alabama," the audience was frenzied enough to make a good old-fashioned rush onto the stage. The Skynyrd equipment crew made a gallant—if less than gentlemanly—effort to clear the stage, but after two encores the band abandoned the battle zone.

MAY 22, 1975

Earlier, Charlie Daniels offered a preview of what looked like another powerhouse act from the South. Playing a solid set sparked by sizzling guitar, the band, hot and hungry like Skynyrd a year ago, captured the audience early in their set. Closing with Daniels's fiddle renditions of "The South's Gonna Do It" and "Orange Blossom Special," they, like Skynyrd, left the audience with positive memories for the next time around.

ABOUT CHARLEY PRIDE

Country and Western fans in Taranaki were treated to a great night earlier this month when Charley Pride performed at the New Plymouth Opera House.

Pride would be one of the most successful and popular Country-Western performers today. Not since Jim Reeves (whose records still tend to dominate some of the country charts) has there been a performer of this artist's calibre and popularity.

He has over twenty albums to his credit and something over nine of these have reached the Gold category. In addition his singles releases have seen incredible successes—take for instance his 'Kiss an Angel Good Morning'.

Charley Pride was raised in the Mississippi cotton-fields along with ten brothers and a sister. He was born in Sledge, some sixty miles south of Memphis. At the age of seventeen the young Pride was playing ball in the Negro American League with Detroit and with the Memphis Red Sox. Then came the Army's two year stint during which time he met and married his wife Rozene. With de-mobbing he returned to baseball and made it to the Majors in 1961. At this time he lived in Montana, and off season he worked for the Anaconda Minings Zinc complex and sang as a nightclub entertainer at night.

Towards the end of 1963 country star, Red Sovine happened to catch Charley Pride's act and arranged for a Nashville recording session. Chet Atkins was so impressed with the session that he signed Charley to a long term RCA contract and Charley first released a single in 1965, called 'Snakes Crawl at Night'.

The following year, Pride's recording of 'Just Between You and Me' won him a Grammy Nomination for the 'Best Country and Western Male Vocal Performance'.

NEW ALBUMS

LYNYRD SKYNYRD....Nuthin' Fancy.....MCA 7884

This third Album release by a solidly based Southern rock band (the one with the funny name) is certainly worthy of attention. The best track by far is their 'Railroad Song' but interest will be held in a comparison with their earlier work. It will be remembered that much interest was created by the release of their first album in New Zealand.

That album was an import and although the numbers brought into the country were not great but it was enough to create considerable national interest in the group.

THE MAORI VOLCANICS....Live....Revolution 1001.

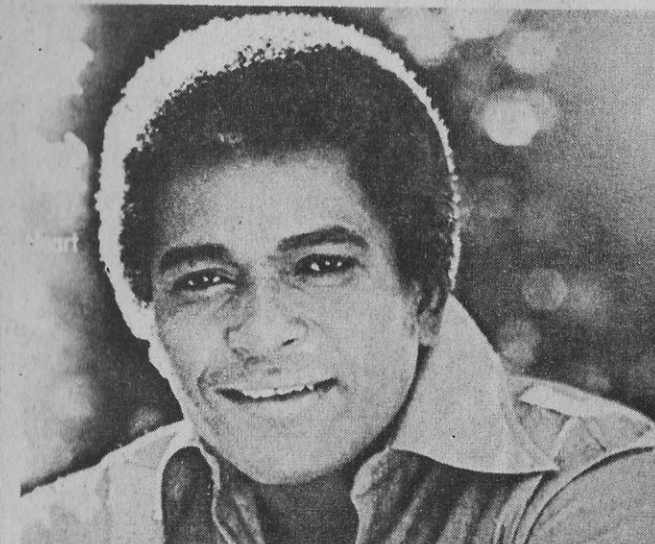

What a fantastic album. This wins my vote as the best locally produced LP of the year. Of course the group have got a lot going for them. They would be one of the most professional bands yet produced by New Zealand, and this professionalism shows in all of their work. They are a truly world class show-band and very able ambassadors for this country. This album shows them at their best—beautiful vocal work, humour, and excellent musical backing. The album was recorded 'live' at Wellington's Broderick Inn. That is side two was. Side One was recorded in the studio.

CAROL DOUGLAS...The Carol Douglas Album...
.....RCA 1-0931

What an exciting new discovery Carol Douglas is. She has that certain vocal magic that so many negro entertainers seem to have. Opening track is 'Doctor's Orders' and that is my fave track on the album. If you see this release in your record store, Get the assistant to play the track, I'm sure you'll find her as exciting as I have.

TANYA TUCKER.....MCA 7951

Tanya is a new country and western singer. While we must describe her as a very competent singer, we do not find anything terribly exceptional about her work. She performs excellent arrangements of material like 'Lizzie and the Rainman' the Everly's 'When Will I Be Loved' and 'The King of Country Music' If country is your bag, then she would be worth recommending to you, but as we said, we do not find anything rave about her, just good, well polished performances.

TARANAKI v. WELLINGTON

Wellington crushed Taranaki in a mighty game at Hawera last month, that ended in 41 to 15 final score with Wellington the victors.

Wellington's Grant Batty was the 'star' of the day with four tries to his credit, scored almost one on top of the other.

Batty flies ahead of all opposition to score the first of his four tries.

The short head and yard event was won by B. Hill of Hastings.

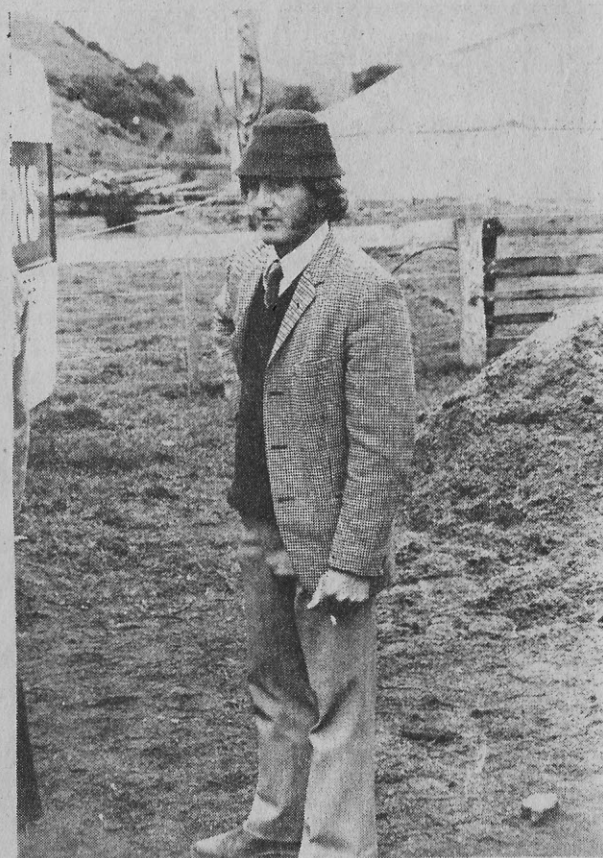

Simon, is owned by Mr R W Northcott of Urenui. Simon who was entered in the Trials, has done extremely well in the past year and this then becomes a matter of even a dog overcoming disabilities. He was hurt as a puppy and lost the sight of an eye. This disability has meant that Simon tends to having difficulty in judgement at times, especially when sheep are on his right.

MANGAMINGI DOG TRIALS

For only the second time in the history of the movement the National Sheep Dog Trials were this year held in Taranaki.

The event took place at Mangamingi and a good selection of entries were received from all parts of the country in most events.

Pictured are a few of the events and some who participated in the Trials.

Jim Blinkborne did extremely well. Jim is Head Shepherd on Tererwhiti Station just out of Wellington.

TOUTING..... Theatre enthusiasts are pictured touting for business outside the Hawera Post Office on a recent Friday night. The purpose of it all was to arouse interest in the Downstage Theatre production of 'Oh Temperance' which was playing at the Memorial Theatre.

'AN EVENING TO REMEMBER'

A function, held to raise funds for the 'Save the Children Fund' was seen in Hawera's Wesley Hall last month. Called 'Evening to Remember' the event raised over $300 for the fund and took the form of a parade of people and fashions from various countries of the world.

RUGBY

PATEA V. CLIFTON

It was exciting rugby for spectators when Patea met the Clifton side in a match held at Patea last month. Clifton won the match by 13 to 3 in some dashing displays of gamesmanship which had the fans on the very edge of their seats through most of the match.

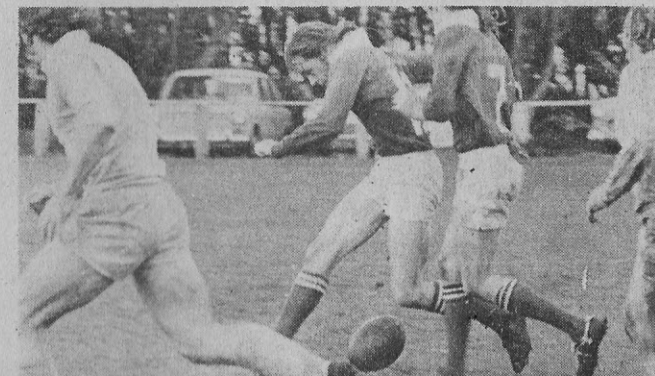

Patea's Hurley in possession but that is quickly disputed.
